REVEAL AMERICAN MONEY LOANED ABROAD!

United States Answers Great Britain

TEXT OF NOTE IS NOT YET REVEALED

America Takes Stand It Has Right to Participate In Settlement, Is Belief

LONDON, Dec. 12.—The foreign office today received the reply of the United States to Britain's note on the subject of war damage claims. It is understood that America's reply makes no concessions.

The British note was a reiteration of Britain's objection to the United States receiving payment for war damages through the Dawes plan.

Foreign Secretary Chamberlain is returning to England from Rome by way of Paris, and it is not thought in diplomatic circles that there will be any official comment from the foreign office on America's reply until Chamberlain reaches London.

Text Not Revealed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The American note to Great Britain, asserting this government's right to participate on a pro-rata basis with other nations in the German reparations payments in settlement of American damage claims, has been dispatched, the state department announced today.

The department declined to make public the text of the communication or the British note which preceded it.

There probably will be simultaneous publication of the documents here and in London at an early date.

U. S. Reply Received

LONDON, Dec. 12.—The foreign office today announced that it was in receipt of the reply of the United States to Great Britain's note on the subject of the Franco-American debt.

It is understood that America's reply makes no concessions.

Gompers 'Much Improved' Say Attending Physicians

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 12.—Samuel Gompers, stricken head of the American Federation of Labor, is back on the soil of his adopted country, speeding to this city this morning. His condition is much improved, according to a bulletin issued by attending physicians during the wait at Laredo. Gompers was not removed from his car while it was being transferred from the Mexican line to the International Great Northern road. The train left Laredo at 9:30 o'clock and is due to arrive at San Antonio at 3:45 p. m. That Gompers' condition does not warrant his being placed in a hospital on his arrival here is indicated by the fact that no hospital reservations have been made. Instead, a suite of rooms at the St. Anthony hotel has been reserved. A consultation of physicians will be called in Gompers' room upon his arrival at the hotel, it was announced before the train left Laredo.

Sen. Johnson Hints Fraud In Election

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Senator Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Laborer of Minnesota, will fight a contest against the election of Thomas D. Schall, his Republican opponent, on charges of illegal methods of collecting campaign funds, it was learned here today. Investigators for Senator Johnson, it was said, have gathered a list of persons who were alleged to have been forced into contributing an average of $500 each to the Schall campaign fund. Johnson will charge this money was collected on promises of immunity from criminal prosecution.

JAPAN DENIES RAISING GUN ELEVATION

Oriental Also Report on Scrapping of Ships Under Agreement

TOKIO, Dec. 12.—Emphatic denial was made here today by both the foreign office and the navy department that Japan has increased the gun elevation of their battleships.

The foreign office reported the government has prepared a statement on the subject of gun elevation for transmission to both the United States and Great Britain, but that this statement is being temporarily held up. The foreign office added that Japan will not start elevation of her guns before an exchange of views on the matter has been made with other naval powers.

Scrapping Goes On

Japan will live up to the terms of the Washington disarmament conference and will complete the scrapping of surplus tonnage before next February 17, according to officials at the navy department. It was also learned here today at the navy department that the United States was the only power which did not agree to Japan's request to save the battleship Mikasa from being junked. The Mikasa was wanted as a monument to commemorate Japan's great naval victory over the Russians at Tushima. Japanese naval officials are interested in reports from America that the United States is building a dirigible at Seattle for a trans-Pacific flight.

Boxing Bill Effective Five Days From Today

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 12.—California electors approved twelve initiative measures and constitutional amendments at the final election, and disapproved six others, according to the official count of the vote, made public today by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan. All of the defeated measures were either bond measures or tax bills, outstanding among them being the state water and power act, legalizing a bond issue of $500,000,000. The power bill was defeated by 431,602 votes. The state boxing bill received a majority of 20,414. It will go into effect five days from today, but the long route bouts cannot be held until a boxing commission is appointed by the governor. The vote on other outstanding measures follows:

Pol. tax—Yes, 501,551; no, 486,134.

Hist! 'Murder Mystery' Is Prevented By Police

A call from East Cypress avenue at a late hour last night, that Miss Pussie Cat in the neighborhood "was being murdered," brought Officers W. W. Hedrick and W. M. Schilling to the scene on the double-quick. They found Miss Pussie Cat in a deplorable condition. In her zeal to extract the last morsel of salmon from the bottom of a large can, she had got her head caught. In this condition she was dashing about wildly, emitting the most blood-curdling wails. After several unsuccessful passes, Officer Hedrick caught her as she tore past. Holding on as she clawed and yowled, he steadied her while Officer Schilling drew off the offending can, much as one would remove a boot. Puss then curled to the gentlemen, frisked her tail and left hastily for parts unknown. Then, and not until then, did the neighborhood sleep.

TRIES TO HALT POSTAL PAY BALLOTING

Coolidge Seeks to Have Senate Postpone Vote On Measure Now

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—President Coolidge personally took charge today of the efforts to forestall a vote on the postal pay increase bill, which is expected to result in his veto being overridden in the Senate.

At an early hour this morning the president summoned to the White House a dozen Republican senators and impressed upon them the desirability of avoiding a vote on the measure at this time. His guests went back to the capitol to try to get a unanimous consent agreement to postpone the vote until Postmaster-General New can provide a bill which will bring in $68,000,000 additional postal revenue to offset the increase to postal employees carried in the measure.

Among those called to the White House were Watson of Indiana, McNary of Oregon, McLean of Connecticut, Howell of Nebraska, Reed of Pennsylvania, Shortridge of California, McKinley and McCormick of Illinois, Cummins of Iowa, Moses of New Hampshire, Stanford of Oregon, and Harold of Oklahoma. They form a considerable section of the so-called administration group in the Senate.

Whether the president's efforts will be successful is regarded as problematical.

Ireland Protests Acts Of England In Egypt

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—A formal protest against the retaliatory measures of Great Britain following the assassination of Sir Lee Stack in Egypt, was made today to Secretary of State Hughes by Sean O'Ceallaigh, representative of the Irish republic.

"These acts of aggression committed by England are unjust and illegal and unwarranted by any act of the people or government of Egypt," O'Ceallaigh's letter said.

URGES MELLON TO ATTEND MEETING

French Financial Minister Invites Secretary of Treasury to Parley

By FRANK E. MASON
For International News Service.
PARIS, Dec. 12.—Financial Minister Clemente told the International News Service today he had sent an invitation to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, urging him to come to Paris personally and attend the financial conference January 6.

"If Secretary Mellon cannot come to Paris, I hope that either Ambassador Herrick or the American ambassador to England, Mr. Kellogg, will represent the United States," M. Clemente continued.

Speaking of the debt M. Clemente said: "Although inter-allied debts will not be officially discussed at the financial conference, nothing will prevent unofficial conversations between ministers at the conference. Such conversation might result in a settlement."

Not Received

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon stated today he had not yet received an invitation from the French finance minister to attend the allied financial conference in Europe on January 6. In the absence of the invitation, no indication was given as to Mellon's reply, but it is believed improbable that he will attend.

Changes Mind On Plans For Shoals Plant

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The first break in the ranks of southern senators who supported the Underwood plan for disposing of Muscle Shoals, came this afternoon when Senator McKellar, Democrat of Tennessee, announced he would vote for the Norris bill, providing government ownership. McKellar opened the day's debate on the subject with this announcement. He said his decision was based on the fact that the Underwood bill would permit the Alabama Power Co. to obtain use of a $100,000,000 property at a rental of only 4 per cent on an investment of $45,000,000, the amount spent on Wilson dam.

KID M'COY LOSES ROUND IN FIGHT FOR HIS LIFE

Testimony on 'Rampage' Admissible, Is Ruling Of Trial Judge

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 12.—Kid McCoy emerged a loser today in the first big fight of his trial for the murder of his sweetheart, Teresa Mors. Judge Charles Crail ruled that testimony regarding the "wild rampage" of McCoy in Mrs. Mors' antique shop, where he shot three persons, was admissible. His ruling came after a strenuous battle by McCoy's lawyers to prevent introduction of testimony relating to events which followed Mrs. Mors' death.

TEN BILLIONS PEACE TIME FINANCIAL OUTLAY

Magnitude of U. S. Capital's Investments Outlined by Federal Reserve Board

By ROBT. S. THORNBURGH
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The magnitude of American financial operations abroad was revealed today when the federal reserve board announced that foreign countries borrowed $1,100,000,000 from American bankers during the first eleven months of 1924.

This places American peacetime investments abroad at approximately $10,000,000,000.

New capital issues were three times as great as in 1923 and substantially greater than during any year since the war, according to the board.

The opinion was expressed that a greater demand for American goods will result from this exportation of capital. About four-fifths of the outward flow of capital represented new investments. Of the new issues approximately 75 per cent were borrowings by foreign governments and 25 per cent by foreign corporations. Half the borrowing was by European nations.

"In contrast with the usual season decline during the late summer and early fall, several of the leading European exchanges have had a marked rise," the board said.

Exchange of such countries as Austria, Germany and Poland, which have stabilized with reference to gold, have during this period maintained their rates practically at par.

COUNTRY CLUB LATE PAPER JUST OUT

Oakmont House Organ is Herald of Events in Social Whirl

Good fellowship among Oakmont Country club members is encouraged in "The Squeak," the edition of the club paper just out. Clever sketches, humorous news items of club activity, and club announcements fill the eight pages.

"The Tales" gives the gossip of the golf links. Progress on the second nine holes to the club course is reported. Individual scores and incidents on the course are recited in prose and poetry.

In the social column is printed accounts of the club's social affairs. Children's Christmas party set for Monday, Dec. 22, is recounted, when Santa Claus will be guest and present each child with holiday goodies. A carnival dinner dance and cabaret is announced for New Year's eve.

Future Club Events
 Among events planned for this month are the regular informal Saturday night social affairs; the women's bridge teas on Wednesday, except Dec. 24; a junior masquerade dance for club children and guests Friday, Dec. 26; special music hour program for December 14 and 21. A special Christmas dinner will be served.

New club members listed in "The Squeak" are Freeman P. Davis, A. L. Benze, Cecil E. Bryan, F. Maylon Jacobs, Wayne H. Keywood, V. M. Hollister, W. W. Paine, Albert D. Pearce, R. D. McCulloch, E. L. Fleming, T. D. Howard. Len C. Davis is a new life member. The late edition of "The Squeak," J. M. Lowry, who pictures club members as others see them, in clever sketches for the club paper, is shown in

DYE WORKS IS HOST AT BIG RECEPTION

President John H. Fanset
And Associates Greet
Numerous Visitors

Throngs of Glendale people were present last night at the formal opening of the new plant of the Fanset Dye Works, Inc., 2995 Boulevard. They congratulated John H. Fanset, president; Daniel Campbell, vice-president; and Lincoln Heyes, secretary-treasurer, on the success of this old, established firm and wished them an even greater success in their spacious $50,000 home.

Music and dancing provided an atmosphere of gaiety and tasty refreshments were provided. Hundreds were conducted through the plant and invariably expressed to the management their surprise that the Fanset Dye Works, Inc., had grown to such proportions and was so well equipped to care for every phase of work in their field.

Plan Demonstration
 Tonight is "Demonstration Night" at the new plant, when guests will have an opportunity to see the machinery in actual operation and observe the numerous processes through which garments go in the process of being "dry cleaned." This announcement is made by Mr. Heyes, who states that there will also be a dance tonight.

One of the most popular features of the three-day opening of the Fanset Dye Works, Inc., is the number of prizes that will be distributed on Saturday night, including an Atwater Kent radio set, furnished by the Psenner brothers' electric shop, 601 South Brand boulevard.

Also Saturday Night
 Saturday night will be the final night of the reception, Mr. Heyes states. There will be another dance on that night, with music by the same popular orchestra. One of the features of this three-day opening that makes it possible to accommodate the large crowds is the spacious reception room. The five plate glass windows on the boulevard are brilliantly lighted at night and contain displays of the many examples of work done by the Fanset Dye Works, Inc.

GLENDALE NOT SEEKING OFFICE

Mrs. Daniel Campbell Denies
She Is Candidate for District President

"I am not seeking any office in anything," was the emphatic statement made this morning by Mrs. Daniel Campbell, junior past president of the Tuesday Afternoon club and prominent Southern California club woman, when she learned of the announcement in a Los Angeles paper that the San Fernando Ebell club had endorsed her as a candidate for president of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs.

"It is all a great surprise to me," said Mrs. Campbell, "and I feel the words 'seek office' were most unwisely and unkindly used. I am not going to be a candidate for any office I know of now."

"As for the district presidency I do not feel that it should be claimed by another Glendale woman. The Los Angeles district, being the largest district in the state, honors should be passed around. Glendale should not want it all. At some future time it would be all right for a Glendale woman to be chosen again."

BLESSED IS THE MAN—
Who keeps his mind closed to the spirit of envy.
Who holds his own honor in high esteem.
Who learns to rejoice in another's good fortune.
Who can look into the eyes of his child unashamed.
Who has nothing to fear when the papers are full of scandal.
Who has added no unholy profits to his savings.

LODGE'S SUCCESSOR

The Emporia, Kansas, Gazette, a paper that has known and fought Charles Curtis, the new Senate leader and successor to Henry Cabot Lodge, for thirty years, says of him: "He will make a good and perfect leader for these days. These are days of static politics. We are in for a season of pause and reflection. The world is timid. America has just registered the most definite conservative vote, the most unquestioned order to halt that the nation ever gave. Curtis as Senate leader will obey those who put the order into legislative direction. He will handle the Senate as a master, for he knows it better than any other living man. He knows the strings and wires that reach every Senator. He knows the Senators personally with an uncanny precision. Curtis will take orders from those authorized by law and position to give orders—the President, the Senate Republican caucus, the men who make policies.

"What a career he has had! He now stands almost next to the president in power in this country, a big figure in the world. Forty-odd years ago he was driving a hotel bus and rustling around a Topeka livery stable. He is self-educated and self-made. He has had no one at his elbow to advise him, to 'make' him. He has worked out his life and destiny after the inner voice of his own heart. He has husbanded his fine talents splendidly. Our hat is off to Charles Curtis. He has earned everything he has got. Here is a real man."

It is interesting, to say the least, to contemplate the contrast between Senator Curtis and his predecessor as leader of the Senate. Senator Lodge was descended from the Cabots, having in his veins the bluest of blood and occupying the highest social position. Senator Curtis is said to have a generous amount of Indian blood in his veins. Senator Lodge was educated in an exclusive public school, and a course at Harvard was followed by extensive travels abroad. Then he became assistant editor of the North American Review and subsequently wrote more than a score of books. Curtis graduated from livery stable to bus driver, worked his way into the law, thence into the county office, and from there to the lower House and then to the Senate. He has never written anything. But he is said to know politics, and this is the foundation of his power.

NO DANGER OF WAR

We hear mutterings and rumblings of war from all sources. Many people are sure we are just about to be attacked by some foreign nation. Others are equally certain that there is no such possibility and that our efforts should not be given to preparations for defense. The Duluth Herald discounts the warnings of those who believe that war is imminent, especially those of a retired naval officer, Rear Admiral Bradley Fiske, who declares that the United States is becoming effeminate and may fall a prey to Russia, Germany or Japan, all of whom are covetous of American possessions.

"He is altogether wrong in all his deductions and prophecies," says the Herald. "Men are not becoming soft in this country, nor are the women. There never was a time when so great a percentage were physically fit. The word effeminate was not well chosen. What is there that is weak and ordinary in American women? And only a few years have passed since this country placed four million fighters under arms.

"Russia, he cries, seeks battle with this republic. But Russia is helpless and almost hopeless. She could not transport even a regiment to Alaska, and this country is not thinking of sending hostile troops to Moscow.

"Germany wants what we have, he argues. But Germany has no navy, and what could a German army do on this side? The Germans are not mad and they do not seek war with this country. Germany needs the friendship of the United States.

"But Japan is after us. Why and wherefore? Japan, victorious in a naval war against this country, might seize a tropical isle or two, but that is all. She could not and would not attempt to land a regiment on the continent of North America. And the loss of American trade and friendship would be a calamity to Japan.

"It is somewhat disagreeable, though not deeply disturbing," continues the Herald, "to read such diatribes by retired soldiers and sailors. But such are not exclusively American. Germany has a regiment of them and each one has written a book which is much worse than mere speech-making. Russia has her quota, but they are not allowed to speak or print, and no doubt Japan has her share of disconsolate seers who moan from their cozy corners."

AGRICULTURE NEEDS FEWER LAWS

State Senator Ralph E. Swing told the farmers of San Bernardino county the other day that "agriculture is not in need of more laws, but fewer." He says he has no bills to introduce at the next session of the legislature, but that he will serve agriculture by doing his part to oppose the thousands of bills that will be introduced.

"Agriculture today is handicapped by a multiplicity of laws which are of no benefit to anyone except the selfish interests that promoted them," Senator Swing declared. "At the last session of the legislature 2000 bills were introduced by the assembly and 1600 by the senate. A majority of these bills were put over by lobbyists serving some particular interest or group. Only a small percentage of them were passed, of course, but each year the farmer is fettered by more and more laws. All of them affect him directly or indirectly—and more often than not are detrimental to his welfare."

Not only agriculture, but all forms of business are hampered by too many laws. It is necessary that our legislators be men and women who are capable of determining which bills are for the good of the people and which are detrimental, and who will vote against the latter in spite of pressure that may be brought to bear to have them support these bills.

EGYPT AND THE LEAGUE

Secretary Chamberlain of England says it is quite clear that what has occurred in Egypt does not come within the provisions of the covenant of the League of Nations, but out of respect and regard for the league his colleagues have authorized him to attend the council and lay before it any information he may be able to give. The league was organized as an agency for the peaceable adjustment of disputes between nations and members and supporters of it should not hesitate to submit its disputes to that body.

Health Rules

By DR. FRANK CRANE

The Department of Health of the city of New York observed Health Day on the sixth of November.

From a circular sent to all district superintendents and principals of public schools I am taking twelve rules for children's health.

These rules are so valuable that they deserve a wider circulation. They are as follows:

1. Rise promptly; take breathing and setting-up exercises every morning in a well-ventilated room.
2. Wash your hands with warm water, soap and nail brush. Take a shower or sponge bath over the entire body with tepid or cold water daily.
3. Clean your teeth before breakfast, after every meal and before retiring.
4. Eat slowly and chew your food thoroughly at all times.
5. Always wash your hands before eating.
6. Drink a glass of water after rising and at recess. Use individual drinking cup or bubble fountain. Never use a common drinking cup.
7. Drink a quart of milk, eat bread and butter and a cereal daily.
8. Do not cough, sneeze or spit in public places. If you must do so, place a handkerchief in front of your nose and mouth. Do not sit alongside or play with children who have a cold.
9. Do not put penholders, pencils or your fingers in your mouth.
10. Do not take a bite of an apple, a piece of candy or any other food that your friend is eating.
11. Stand, sit and walk erect.
12. Do not get your feet wet. On rainy or snowy days wear rubbers. If your feet become wet, tell your teacher or your mother.

Horoscope

This is rather a threatening day, according to astrology for Jupiter, Venus and Neptune are all in malefic aspect.

During this planetary sway efforts may be retarded and even blocked and it is well to avoid any decisive action.

Merchants and manufacturers may find much that is discouraging in the business outlook, but signs are not to be trusted, for many surprises are in store for business men.

Women are still subject to the sinister direction of the stars, which may bring temporary discouragement to those of high ambition.

While there may be large opportunities for women in business, especially in banking and financial management, those in the artistic callings should postpone making any effort toward advancement until after the rule changes.

Much prating of principles and muddling of minds is to be evident in religion as well as politics in the next six months. If there will be a tendency to think, which is favorable for the future. As the moon is in Cancer, the sign that governs the stomach, it will be well to be careful about eating too much candy or too many elaborate dinners.

There is a fairly fortunate sign for the pursuit of routine or commonplace business.

Who's Who

One of West Virginia's senate seats will be filled after March 4, by a man who had lived in the state but little over a year before his election to the upper house. In fact his election drew the fire of the Democrats due to the fact that previous to taking up residence in Charleston he had lived for thirty years in the west Wisconsin. He is a Republican and known as a reactionary.

He is the son of the late federal judge and U. S. senator, Nathan Goff, so joins the ranks of those who have kept the senate toga in the family. The elder Goff was a power in the Republican circles during his political career.

Goff succeeds Davis Elkins. At one time Goff was U. S. District Attorney in Wisconsin and later was connected with the Department of Justice there as special assistant to the attorney general.

At the outset of the war he offered his services to the government in any capacity, or in any department, where the government might desire to place him, and was placed in the office of Judge Advocate General Crowder.

Following the World War, while Goff was serving as assistant attorney general, he was named by Attorney General Daugherty to direct prosecutions arising out of war contract frauds.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

Congress is in session. Day after day the dispatches of their doings clog the wires and soon they will take a Christmas holiday.

The fact that the senate approves large appropriations for the navy is encouraging in view of world events, but of more importance to the west is the prediction that the Boulder Canyon dam bill will not get out of committee.

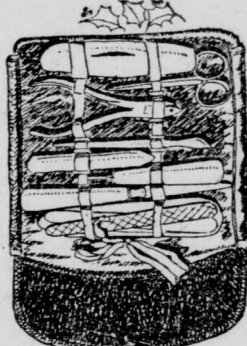

It is tremendously important that the Colorado river be harnessed. Imperial valley, Riverside county, metropolitan Los Angeles and the neighbor states of Arizona, Utah and Nevada are keenly interested in the Boulder canyon dam bill.

Likewise, the power interests are keenly interested and there is no doubt but what their lobby at Washington will be sufficient to put a crimp in this legislation unless the whole southwest turns loose its political guns and demands action.

The Swing-Johnson bill, fostered by Congressman Phil Swing of Imperial county and Senator Hiram Johnson, is the means for getting the Boulder canyon dam. It doesn't matter what your politics are, whether you know Swing, like Johnson, or bob your hair—the Congress of these United States and President Coolidge should know that the interests of the southwest, the welfare of the people, the future of thousands of acres of land and the growth of a score of cities is at stake. Respectfully, we suggest the war cry: "Boulder canyon dam or bust!"

ORGANIZATION ASSOCIATIONS CELEBRATES TO HELP IN OPENING APPRAISAL

Commemorate Event at Meet
Of Northwest Improvement
Association

The Greater Northwest Improvement association celebrated the opening of the north side of Glendale boulevard last night with a special meeting at the Grand View school. A large crowd of northwest residents and property owners who attended the meeting received with much enthusiasm the announcement by W. J. McIntyre, right-of-way engineer of the city, that only one deed remained to be secured before the opening of the boulevard on the south side can proceed. This deed will be secured shortly, he said. Over 100 property owners have agreed to the opening and widening of Glendale boulevard to date, the engineer announced.

Percy J. Hayselden, secretary of the City Planning commission, stressed the importance of supporting the program of the joint school boards for new schools in Glendale, and prophesied that within a short time the northwest section will be solidly built, forming a connecting link of homes between Glendale business district and Burbank.

E. M. Shutt, representative of a new Glendale boulevard subdivision between Ruberta and Sonora streets; and Councilman Sam Davis, who urged support of the joint school board program and spoke briefly on activities at the City Hall, also spoke. President J. H. Randall presided at the meeting.

Telephone Committee
A committee composed of S. C. Singer, B. F. Geiger and Arthur Campbell will consult with officials of the Pacific Telephone Co. in an effort to have telephones in the northwest extremity of Glendale placed on the Glendale exchange instead of being handled from the Burbank office with an additional charge for Glendale calls.

At the conclusion of the business session the following program under the direction of C. L. Jenkins was given:

Musical Program
Piano solos, (a) "Moonlight On the Hudson," (b) "Rustle of Spring," Arthur Carson; vocal solos, "Who Knows?" and "I Hear You Calling Me," J. T. Jenkins, with Mrs. Bernice Brainard accompanist; piano selection, "Make Believe," Mrs. Brainard; soprano solo, aria from "Traviata" and "You'd Better Ask Me," Mrs. Le Legue, with Mrs. Brainard accompanist; violin solos, "All Alone," "The World Is Waiting for the Sunshine" and "Gypsy Serenade," Harold Korn, with Mrs. E. J. Lunenschloss accompanist; piano selection, "Military Polonaise," Arthur Carson; soprano solo, "La Paloma," Mrs. Le Legue, with Mrs. Lunenschloss accompanist; and "Just a Little Blue," J. T. Jenkins vocal, Mrs. J. T. Jenkins whistler, Mrs. Brainard piano and Mr. Korn violin.

Mrs. Le Legue, who appeared on the program, is a radio artist of distinction. Her accompanist, Mrs. Lunenschloss, is a well-known organist and teacher of piano. Mr. Korn is a newcomer to Glendale from Chicago. Following the program refreshments were served.

City Council Requests Each
Service Club to Name
Two Representatives

The City Council voted yesterday to request each of seven luncheon clubs to appoint two members to a committee of twenty to work in conjunction with the Los Angeles county assessors in making appraisals of Glendale property for the 1924-25 taxes. This action was taken at the afternoon session, by unanimous vote, on motion of Councilman S. A. Davis, second of Councilman C. E. Kimlin. The council will name the other six members of the committee when the luncheon clubs have made their appointments. Following are the seven organizations named in the measure: Chamber of Commerce, Realty board, Rotary, Kiwanis, Exchange, Optimists and Lions.

The council adopted a resolution denying reports that the city property at the southwest corner of Brand boulevard and Los Feliz road is being offered for sale, and declaring the city has no intention of selling this property, which was formerly the Tropico city hall and is now Station No. 2 of the Glendale fire department.

Condolence Resolution
The council adopted a resolution of condolence over the death of Garfield W. Jones of 240 North Cedar street, a collector in the public service department, who passed away yesterday, Thursday, December 11, 1924, after serving the city of Glendale for twelve years. The city flag was ordered lowered at the request of Virgil B. Stone, city manager, out of respect for the memory of this long-time municipal employee.

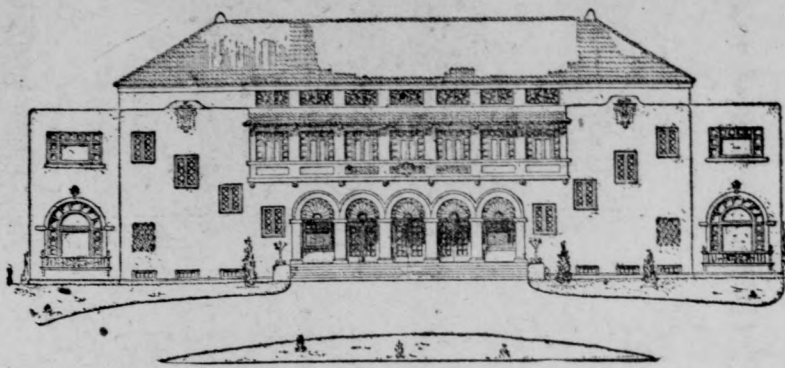

An ordinance was passed granting a franchise to the Southern California Edison Co. for construction and maintenance of a high line along East Wilson avenue and other streets. A resolution was adopted granting this company permission to install an underground cable on West Eulalia street. The sum of $1,200 was authorized to be transferred from the main library fund for the purchase of furniture for the main library.

Ordinances Passed
Ordinances were passed creating commercial districts at Pacific avenue and Dryden street, Stanley avenue and Verdugo road, Sycamore Canyon road and Verdugo road, Glendale boulevard and Ruberta avenue; and an ordinance was passed prohibiting heavy traffic on the newly paved portion of Canada boulevard.

Resolutions were adopted awarding contract for the improvement of Hillside drive and other streets to E. L. Fleming, adopting a diagram of the assessment district for the improvement of Ard-Even avenue and other streets, adopting the plat and plans for the improvement of Bruce avenue and declaring intention to improve this avenue. Decision on the award of contract for the installation of sewers in the Glendale Heights tract was held over one week, pending a conference over certain changes in the specifications thought to be necessary.

Cunard Line Advises
Tourists Tickets Now

H. G. DeGolia, assistant manager of the Cunard lines, with headquarters at San Francisco, spent yesterday in Glendale, conferring with C. A. Redmond, of the Union Pacific office, on matters pertaining to 1925 transatlantic travel bookings from Glendale. The rates across the Atlantic this coming year will be considerably higher than they are at present. As a means of assuring the cheaper rate, Mr. Redmond advises that those planning trips arrange for their tickets now.

GENERATIONS APPROVE OF 'MESSIAH'

Glendale Music Club Set For Handel's Cantata Next Tuesday

Telling the story of the Christ child in song Handel's oratorio "The Messiah," will be presented next Tuesday night at Broadway High school by the Glendale Music club, assisted by Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra. Glendale people, old and young, are expected to fill the school auditorium for this rendition of a musical composition that has been approved by many generations.

Handel wrote this masterpiece in twenty-four days, August 22 to September 14, 1741. No other oratorio has enjoyed such enduring popularity, such positive adoration, as "The Messiah." The first performance of the oratorio was in April, 1742, and one critic waxed poetical in reviewing it: "To harmony like His celestial power was given To exalt the soul from earth, and make of hell a heaven."

London first heard "The Messiah" in March, 1743, and today it is held in veneration by the English. It has been said that the "Hallelujah" chorus is part of the English people's religious belief.

During Handel's lifetime "The Messiah" was performed thirty-four times, but never upon the same scale as it since has been given. His last public act was to direct it on April 6, 1759, a week before his death.

Oratorio's Text

The text of the oratorio is the literal words of the Holy Scriptures and was selected from the Old and New Testaments and arranged by Charles Jennens. The work is divided into two parts. The first including the foretelling of the Messiah by the prophets, the celestial announcements heralding this birth, and the reception of the "king of great joy" by the shepherds at their vigil. Opening the second part is Christ's actual appearance upon earth as the redeemer and savior of mankind. This part treats of his passion, death and exaltation, and of the spread and establishment of the gospel in the land. Following comes declaration of the truths of Christianity, in essence a "credo," subscribing to the existence of Christ the Redeemer, the resurrection of the body and the life everlasting.

Tickets are reported in great demand and selling fast. All seats are reserved.

ing children so that all mothers can attend. Special luncheon will be served.

Another P.-T. A. interest at this time of year is philanthropic work, and yesterday Central P.-T. A. received report that Mrs. Albert Hadley, philanthropic chairman, had completed a quilt for the Glendale Welfare council, and that other contribution was also in hand for the same organization. In addition, an offering was taken for Near East relief.

Pupils in Program
Entertainment yesterday was a program by the pupils. It proved a most enjoyable occasion for both pupils and school patrons, who crowded the auditorium, because of the presence of Miss Annie L. McIntyre, formerly principal, who is now assistant superintendent of schools.

The new orchestra, directed by Miss Elsa Brennenman, played. Other numbers on the program were: Playlet, "The Paper Angel," by pupils of Miss Perkins' room; duet by Jack Malone and Janet Bachtel; solo by Evelyn Bimont; reading by Eleanor Thompson; solo by Eola Clark; tableaux, "The Manger," by pupils from Miss Ellis' room, music of stage by teacher with chorus by children.

Later the children were guests of the P.-T. A. at a holiday treat. The room count-awarded honors to Miss Perkins and Mrs. Emery's rooms.

Half-Time Continues In Print Cloth Mills

FALL RIVER, Mass., Dec. 12.—Production in the print cloth mills of this textile center remains at about 50 per cent of capacity in spite of reports that practically all of the mills were to have resumed on a full-time basis. The print cloth market, however, is showing a slight improvement.

SECRETARY OF CHURCH IS SELECTED

Ira D. Vayhinger of Oakland Succeeds Miss Gunther At Presbyterian

Ira D. Vayhinger, newly chosen secretary-manager of the Glendale Presbyterian church arrived here last night from Oakland to take up his new duties. Mr. Vayhinger replaces Miss Louise Gunther who recently resigned as secretary-treasurer of the church. He will establish his offices at the church building, corner of Harvard and Louise streets immediately.

Mr. Vayhinger is widely known for his work in the San Francisco bay district and in Honolulu as a Y. M. C. A. secretary. He replaced W. A. Horn, Glendale realtor, as secretary at Honolulu shortly after the war. Mr. Vayhinger was also Y executive at Berkeley. During the past two years he has been engaged in business at Oakland.

The new church manager will take full charge of the secretarial and financial ends, completely relieving the pastor, Rev. Walter E. Edmonds of these detailed duties. Mr. Vayhinger announced that he would bring his family to Glendale about Christmas time and establish his permanent residence here. Besides his wife he has two children.

PLAYERS' COMEDY INCITES RIPPLE

Glendale Receives Late Dobinson Production As Best Yet

Suppose you were 19, a college girl, and woke up all at once to find that the little woman whom you had always considered merely as mother was, in fact, an attractive, little person and capable of attracting more attention from your friends than you were yourself. What would you do about it?

That is one of the funny situations in A. E. Thomas' great comedy "Only 38," which is the feature attraction at the Playhouse this week with Gertrude Kellar in the role of the mother, and Olaf Hytten in the character of the college professor who falls in love with her.

In the first place she was only 38 years old. The fact that there was a boy ready to enter college and a daughter trailing right along, didn't enter into the spirit of youth that cried out for something. Her life had been the drab. She hadn't uttered a word of complaint but, after his death, she couldn't see why she should shut up the song in her soul any longer.

Cast of Characters
"Only 38" moves on with a charm and humor that makes it one of the most delightful comedies of many seasons. Miss Kellar as the mother is all that could be desired. George C. Pearce who is doing such good work as director of the company, portrays the character of Mr. Sanborn, father of the widow, whose main idea is to step out and see the bright lights just once.

William H. Stephens and Mary Isabelle Alpaugh as the college twins are effective. Thyra Ruhlman in a small part is good. Richard Ehlers as Syd Johnson is well received. Gertrude Rothe as Mary Hadley, whose father makes shoes in Brockton, is delightful. Olaf Hytten as Professor Giddings gives a good characterization. College boys and girls are represented by several Glendaleans. The scenic effects are commendable and were designed by Rita Glover. The musical program under the direction of Gladys H. Lott is well rendered.

ADVENTIST WEEK OF PRAYER ENDS

Tomorrow Morning Marks Finish With Services At Church

The week of prayer, which has been in progress at the Seventh-day Adventist church, corner of California avenue and Isabel street, will close tomorrow morning with the service at 10:45 o'clock. Elder O. O. Bernstein, president of the Southern California conference, will have charge of the service. Elder R. G. Schaffner, secretary of the Young People's Missionary volunteer department of the conference, will have charge of the meeting tonight. While the pastor, Elder Parmelee, will be at the church at Exposition park, but will be associated with Elder Bernstein in the service tomorrow morning.

After a conference between members of a committee composed of R. Belcher, T. A. Rooker, C. W. Bruce, Frank H. Ketchum and Theodore Fleishmann, representing the Southwest Glendale Improvement association and, Attorney Kemper Campbell, the committee announced today that Mr. Campbell will be at the mass meeting at the Glendale Intermediate school Saturday night and will discuss the local phases of the proposed Sycamore Canyon drive assessment district.

FORESTERS HOLD INITIATION WORK

Glendale Lodge Members Seek New Quarters As Numbers Grow

Initiation took place at the meeting of the Independent Order of Foresters held last night at the American Legion hall, 610 East Broadway. The initiation was put on by the Robin Hood degree team of Court E. G. Los Angeles. Glendale court was organized on November 11 by S. G. Dunkerly, high court secretary from Los Angeles, and since that time the court has doubled its membership. The charter closed with fifty-eight members. In addition to the regular business, two delegates were elected to represent the local court at the annual high court sessions at the temple, 955 South Olive street, Los Angeles, on December 30. The delegates who will attend the meeting are Gould H. Warren, chief ranger, and Dr. E. H. Sawyer, court physician.

The goal of the membership of the court has been set at 500 for the first twelve months. The growth of the organization has necessitated finding another place of meeting and a committee was appointed to find a suitable meeting place. Announcement of the time and place of the next meeting will be made through the columns of The Glendale Evening News.

Jeweler Prepares for Xmas Rush With Help

R. L. Cole, jeweler, 106 East Broadway, has prepared for the Christmas rush by adding more salespeople. Among them is F. C. Butler, formerly manager of the Lewis Jewelry Co., who extends an invitation to all his friends to visit him at Mr. Cole's place of business.

Boy Scouts will be better citizens because of their training. Better citizens are also created by the owning of homes. Home owning would be beyond the reach of most of us, were it not for the real estate mortgage. Deep in the heart of every man and woman is the desire to own a home. Consequently there is an enormous demand for money to be loaned on real estate. This is especially true of this vicinity in which there has been such a building activity for some time.

The Gibraltar Finance Corporation was organized to take advantage of this situation—to give the people of this community an opportunity to assist development and to SHARE IN THE PROFITS OF THAT DEVELOPMENT.

This corporation is managed by men of experience, with a thorough knowledge of real estate values, with skill in the selection of investments. These men have invested thousands of their own funds in this company, thereby assuring you, as a shareholder, that their best efforts will be expended in making a success of this corporation.

OIL INDUSTRY CONTROLS 8 BILLIONS

Magnates Now Gathered at Fort Worth Own Lot Of Real Money

By ROBERT T. SMALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
FORT WORTH, Texas, Dec. 12.

—What overpowering statistics these men of the American Petroleum Institute throw at you.

Gathered here these men of oil represent a capital investment of eight billions of dollars, more than a third of the entire national debt. There are a lot of bankers with them that represent another billion or so. Charley Mitchell, of the National City of New York, for instance, who says his institution is popularly regarded as an "oil bank" and he is proud of his affiliation "with an industry which through misconception and misunderstanding is much maligned but rightfully holds a place of first importance in the basic structure of American economic growth and development."

Throw in five or six railroad men for another billion or so, and Fort Worth becomes for the moment the financial center of America, if not of the world. The meeting here is peculiarly appropriate for the history of Texas speaks volumes in the romance of oil, while Fort Worth has contributed more lavishly to oil developments perhaps than any center of the great southwest.

Auto Versus Oil
Few persons realize the demands the rapid development of the automobile has upon the oil industry, for of what use is the horseless wagon without this supply of "gas."

The production of crude oil in 1900 was 63,000,000 barrels. In 1923 it was 725,000,000. The production of gasoline in 1900 was 7,000,000 barrels. In 1923 it was 180,000,000, an increase of more than 2500 per cent. Even with the vast increase in crude oil production through ceaseless drilling and the discovery of magical new pools, the industry could not have kept pace with the demand unless engineering skill had made it possible to extract three barrels of gasoline today from the same amount of crude which yielded but one under the old processes. So heavy have been the demands for oil and so great has been the lure of the black, flowing gusher that in the last three years has sliced the demand by something like a half a billion barrels. The result has been a scale of prices for crude oil and gasoline below that of 1923—the lowest of more than 400 commodities. The motoring public does not realize what a joy ride it has had. The oil men are trying to figure how they are to get even in the future.

They would like further to curb the activities of the "wild catter" who always seems to be able to get enough capital to dig and dig and dig.

When, by chance, he strikes a new pool the industry is dismayed. It is like planting too much wheat or cotton. The oil men lament that the public becomes terribly interested in the farmer when he faces the problem of overproduction and a storage of excess crops but nobody gives a second thought to the poor devil in oil.

The country must take heed, however, Thomas A. O'Donnell of Los Angeles, president of the Institute, declared today, for the nation cannot be prosperous without prosperity in its second greatest industry.

Henry L. Doherty, big financier, of the cities service and oil men of New York have suggested that an appeal be made to the government at Washington to restrict production. At that most of the oil men stand on their hind legs and howl. Lord deliver them, they say, from Washington and all its ways. "We are lame and limping on one leg now," they specify, "but if we went to Washington to mend it, we would not have any leg left at all."

Black Eye in Capitol
Which means that the oil men are not unkindful of the black eye that Washington tried to give the industry last spring. That period is referred to as one of wild hysteria. President O'Donnell said today that he would never forget the cold chill which ran down his back when one day during the investigations, Billy Burns heard of the Department of Justice at the time, came up to him in Washington and said:

"Tom, did you know that President Coolidge is being mentioned as concerned in this oil business? And furthermore, Tom I have every reason to believe it is true. They say he was sworn in by the light of an oil lamp."

All of which seems silly and absurd today Mr. O'Donnell added, but the cold chill he got at the start was illustrative of the atmosphere which prevailed in Washington. Yet the oil men have not lost their sense of humor. Bob Welsh, secretary of the institute, says he is glad all the oil men are in Fort Worth. No one can blame that $400,000 robbery in Milwaukee on them. There is the story too of the four oil men who were playing cards on the way down here. When they crossed the Texas border they were warned it was against the state law to play cards.

"For a moment," said one of the participants, "we were in a dilemma. Then, remembering we were good oil men, we just pulled down the shade."

George Walker, discoverer of the main reef of the famous Rand gold mines of South Africa, died recently in straitened circumstances.

EGYPTIAN VILLAGE CAFE

TELEPHONE GLENDAL 1805 FOR RESERVATIONS

A PERSONAL MESSAGE TO THE PEOPLE OF GLENDAL:

---By "Bob" Jensen

The Egyptian Village Cafe, which was conceived and opened as a part of the Palace Grand Shops, Glendale's most unique and popular recreation center, has been reopened to the public after an expenditure of more than $2000, making a total investment of over $25,000, to give this city a restaurant second to none in the state of California!

It has been the good fortune of Glendale to get Messrs. C. Axel Christensen and Chris Christensen, experienced cafe men, to conduct the Egyptian Village cafe henceforth. They, too, have been fortunate in obtaining Henry Kuhlman, famed European and American chef, to preside over the cuisine.

Realizing the demands and desires of the Glendale public for only the best of food at moderate prices, these gentlemen have moved to this city and reopened the Egyptian Village cafe, along entirely new lines, which I am sure will meet the approval of a discerning patronage.

Personally, I want to invite you and your families to enjoy the hospitality of the Egyptian Village Cafe—I want to commend the new management as competent and meriting your patronage.

Yours Truly,

"BOB" JENSEN.

Additional minutes of the City Council will appear in The Glendale Evening News tomorrow.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Dec. 12.—Those who were unable to be present last evening at the concert of the Occidental Glee club missed a treat as the young men were in splendid voice having prepared an exceptionally fine program.

Accompanied by the spirited playing of Joe Roucek the boys easily won their audience and carried them along during the entire evening.

Opening the concert with "Now Let Every Tongue" by Bach, sung by the club they were well received and heartily applauded.

Don Tyler who made a name for himself on the speaking platform proved his right to be called a soloist also, in his perfect rendition of his selected solo.

"Fasting I Watch" by Elgar, sung by the club received well merited applause as did the violin solo played by James Morse.

The club's next number "Saul and David" by Brahms, and "Lassie of Mine" by Walt, were most popular with the audience.

"The Cremation of Sam McGee," always a favorite was especially so, as read by George Paap, who gave as his encore, "The Hobo's Farewell," a clever little dance No. 961, passed May 7, 1924, and entitled, "An ordinance prohibiting heavy traffic over unimproved highways in the city of Glendale, defining such unimproved highways and repealing certain ordinances in conflict therewith," which was introduced on December 4, 1924, was read, and, on motion of Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Gilhuly, said ordinance was adopted as amended and numbered Ordinance No. 1026.

Forstner's "Old King Cole" was a rollicking sort of thing which appealed to the audience when sung by the chorus.

Sawing the saw or playing the violin with an ordinary carpenter's saw and a violin bow made a big hit when Mack McClellan played "Juanita" as a first encore, "Ol' Black Joe," and as the second, "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling."

Mr. McClellan's work was as good as the saw artists one hears on the Orpheum circuit, the tones of the saw being of the vox tremolo type.

Accompanied by Dane Bender for this last number the boys finished off the program in fine style with a medley, "Occidental and the College Yell."

Those singing were Ralph Here, Dwight Miller, Ray Raymond, Verner Jacobson, Don Tyler, Irving Echhoff, George Paap, Guy Wadsworth, Sam Peck, A. E. Lucas, Ralph Lewis, Gregg Lewis, Eric Brodner, Paul Weyman, James Morse, Charles Miller, Robert Kelso, Luther Hooyer, F. Dane Bailey, Tom Stead and Carl Batley, the young men were under the direction of Charles Miller, and were heartily assured of a welcome at any time they will take off on the sentiment of the average hobo.

Rather a novelty on the program was the singing in his native Assyrian tongue the old favorite "Jesus Lover of My Soul" by Luther Hooyer. Mr. Hooyer has a soft mellow tenor that was well suited to the pieces he sang, in English. This soloist gave "Little Mother of Mine," and as his second encore a reading in Italian dialect entitled "The Christmas Present," which delighted the children very much.

Joe Roucek, a native of the Czechoslovakian republic, has only been here three years, coming to Occidental college on a government certificate, after completing his course here, he will rather than against his wishes, return to his native land, however, Mr. Roucek was very good natured about singing in the Czech tongue though the words were of course not understood by the audience, the singer demonstrated the fact that music is a universal language, receiving vigorous applause for his hitting folk song, which he explained, was the song his people sang when they were happy and held feast days. Sung half in Czech and half in English Mr. Roucek gave a plaintive native serenade which rather subdued the effect of the folk song.

The two part song, "It's Oh To Be a Wild Wind" by Elgar and "Now is the Time of Maying" by Morley, were well done by the entire club.

Guy Wadsworth has a deep baritone which showed to perfection in "I Pass By Your Window," also in his encore, "On the Shore."

The old time "Ol' Virginny" never loses its popularity particularly as a quartet and of course the "Ol' Black Joe" made a suitable encore.

ies. Under the direction of the Glendale Community Service, the gifts which the children and their parents are asked to bring to the community tree on Christmas Eve, December 24, will be distributed to the needy little ones of the city.

The tags, suggestively decorated in the holiday colors of red and green, have a place for the name of the giver of the article and his or her address and for a record of the article in the package to which the tag is attached.

All invited
On the reverse side of the tag the following invitation is found: "We want every child and every family in Glendale to take part in the Community Christmas this year. Come to the tree on the Harvard high school grounds at 8 o'clock on Christmas Eve, December 24, 1924."

"We are inviting you to help make Glendale's Christmas a time of giving. Attach this card to some article suitable for a needy child and bring it to the tree. Community Service will see that it is taken care of and distributed with the others. Candy, toys, books, canned goods and similar gifts are particularly acceptable." A Christmas program is being arranged for this Community gathering, with choruses of children and adults to sing the well-loved holiday songs. A lighted Christmas tree will be displayed.

come up again to the La Crescenta valley.

The stage of the church had been fittingly decorated for the occasion by the Montrose Nurseries under the supervision of Mr. Brown, who has lately moved from Montrose to La Crescenta, for Mr. Kelso gave acknowledgment of thanks as expressed by the members of the church.

Miss Leonore Hartline was the house guest of Miss Marian Keith of Altura avenue last night coming up from Glendale for the glee club concert.

On Sunday morning B. H. MacMillan, organizer of the Missionary Sunday schools of the Presbyterian church of the California district will occupy the pulpit of the La Crescenta Community church, and in the evening H. Babcock, who has been heard here before, will preach. Mr. Babcock, the assistant secretary of the erection board of the Presbyterian church, has specially prepared for this Sunday evening service. The services will be in charge of Rev. Kelso, pastor of the church, but the preaching will be in the hands of various visitors till Mr. Kelso's eyesight improves so that he may be able to read and write. A cordial invitation is extended to residents of the valley to attend church on Sunday and hear these prominent men speak.

Business Meet Follows

Chorus by room, B-5, Miss Robinson teacher; recitation, "Pointsettias," by eight girls, "Merry Merry Bells," A-5, Miss Banker teacher; wand drill, B-6, Mrs. Nellis teacher; "Christmas Bells" song by six boys, "Pop Corn" song by six girls; "O Little Town of Bethlehem," chorus, A-6, Mrs. Flewelling teacher. The program was well presented, and showed that patient work and time had been spent by the teachers and children.

After the program a business meeting of the Parent-Teacher association was held. The room count showed that Miss Ruth M. Tate's room was nearly 100 per cent in the number of mothers present, and the room was given the story book as a prize. Mrs. Olga Loftus led the flag salute in the absence of Mrs. Fouks, patriotic chairman. Mrs. E. L. Trotter, courtesy chairman, reported that popcorn balls would be given the children today as a Christmas treat. A collection of $2.40 was taken by Mrs. R. G. Addison, treasurer for the Near East Relief fund.

Will Gland Treatment Prolong Youth and Life?

Dr. Serge Voronoff, the eminent French authority on glands, as a result of his experiments believes that men who have arrived at the age where their intellectual and physical faculties commence to diminish, or where their memory becomes unreliable, their thoughts tardy, and their efforts more difficult, or where the ardors of life slacken and decline, and even end—these men will find in glandular treatment a means whereby they may combat these infirmities to prolong equally their will power and their lives.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, prepared in tablet form, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glandogen, for men and women, is obtainable at Ahlmann Drug Co. Phone orders accepted.—Advertisement.

FAMOUS COOK PRESIDES AT CAFE

'Divine Sarah's' Former Chef Prepares Food Now at Egyptian Village

Under new and competent caterers, the Egyptian Village cafe, in Jensen's Palace Grand shops building, 135 North Brand boulevard, has re-opened its doors with a completely different arrangement for serving the discerning public.

C. Axel Christensen, well-known Chicago caterer, and Chris Christensen, formerly in business in Minneapolis, are the new proprietors, coming to Glendale with the personal recommendation of Robert Jensen, representing the extensive Jensen interests here. According to Mr. Jensen, an additional $2000 has been spent in improving and redecorating the $25,000 cafe, which is the most unique establishment of its kind in California. The kitchen has been re-arranged, the dance floor improved, and new lighting effects installed.

European Chef
It is the intention of the new owners to make the Egyptian Village cafe a pleasant place for Glendale patronage, particularly family trade, that enjoys excellent cuisine at moderate prices. As C. Axel Christensen puts it, "We have reduced prices 25 to 50 per cent, and in the employment of Henri Kuhlman, famed European and American chef, the food will be all that is desired."

Chef Kuhlman comes from Luxembourg, Paris and Milan, and more recently he has been maitre d'hotel at the Dyckman, in Minneapolis. He was especially commended by the late "Divine Sarah" Bernhardt while cooking in Paris, and was commandeered as her private chef for a time. He will feature Italian, American, German, French and Chinese dishes.

Messrs. Christensen are well known in their respective cities, C. Axel having conducted the Boulevard restaurant in Austin, Ill., as well as several high-class hotel grills. For the last nine months he has been managing a large Los Angeles cafe until he found a suitable location. Both members of the firm have moved to Glendale.

Carnival Night
The Egyptian Village, with four private dining rooms, will cater to private family parties, afternoon teas and club luncheons, as well as specializing in moderately-priced table d'hote dinners.

Under the new plan, Thursday and Saturday nights will be devoted to dinner dansants, from 9 to 12 o'clock, with Koller's "Shrine Club" orchestra furnishing the music and songs. Other nights the cafe will close at 8:30 o'clock. It will open at 11 a. m. with a businessmen's lunch. Utmost refinement will prevail at all times, and the better trade of Glendale is sought.

In other columns will be found an announcement of "Carnival Night," Saturday, at which time it is expected many old and new friends will get acquainted with the Egyptian Village cafe. Sunday, also, will be a large day, with a special menu arranged by Chef Kuhlman, "who knows how."

AT VERDUGO CITY

VERDUGO CITY, Dec. 12.—Saturday will be gala day in Verdugo City when the new Fowler building will be formally opened to the public. Its three stories on the ground floor will have special attractions for the occasion.

G. Hodensack of the meat market has some extra quality meats which he expects to carry; Mrs. Margy Tomerline will have fresh vegetables for sale from now on; the bakery will have an enticing line of home baked pies, bread, cookies and cakes, while the A. T. Cobb grocery has more than doubled the stock of Best brand groceries since moving into the new store. To put a fitting end to a perfect day, Harry Fowler has arranged for an extra special Hawaiian orchestra for the spectacular dance which is to be given in the new auditorium, entitled "A Night in Hawaii." The dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock. There will be favors also, prizes for the best old fashioned waltz and a booby prize to some one. The entire affair is under the supervision of the Verdugo City Association of Commerce. Hereafter there will be dancing every first and third Saturday evenings each time being a different evening.

H. Hobson, formerly of the Harvey Pullman car system of restaurants is having the Dwyer building on the south side of Honolulu and Los Angeles avenues renovated. Here Mr. Hobson will open a restaurant on the Harvey system lines with Pullman booths.

Blindness Decreases In School Children

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Dec. 12.—Blindness is decreasing, especially among the children of New York state, and, with the addition of several more clinics and workers, the number of blind men, women and children in the state will be cut in half within a short time, announced William C. Corse, president of the New York State Federation of Workers for the Blind, at the federation convention here.

Four hundred Yorkshire canaries arrived in New York recently to be sold as Christmas gifts.

FORD SEEKS PORT SITE

SAN PEDRO, Dec. 12.—Business men of this city are awaiting confirmation of the rumor that Henry Ford has purchased forty acres of Union Pacific waterfront lands for the erection of a distributing plant to handle west coast trade. For more than two years the Ford Motor company of Detroit has been interested in obtaining a port site, it is said. The Union Pacific owns 1500 acres of water front land.

MATCH CAUSES WRECK

POMONA, Dec. 12.—When F. C. Howard lit a match, it was reported to the police, he failed to notice a light car in front of the machine he was driving. His bumper bumped the fender and turned it upside down. C. R. Bechtel, who was driving, was uninjured, according to Officer Robert Browning, but his car was wrecked. Howard's machine hit a curb and the front axle was knocked out of alignment.

DRY ARRESTS COSTLY

SANTA ANA, Dec. 12.—It was revealed here today that the fine resulting from wholesale arrests of Volstead law violators in Orange county will not total enough money to pay the Anti-Saloon league operatives who conducted the investigations leading up to the raids. Stanley C. Chapman, who asked an injunction against the city of Fullerton paying $2,800 as its share of costs assessed by the dry squad, said he favors prohibition, but as a matter of business the price of prosecution was too high.

CLOSE CANYON ROAD

SANTA ANA, Dec. 12.—Effective Monday, December 15, the Santa Ana canyon road leading from Orange county to Corona will be closed to all traffic for thirty days while two miles of new pavement are being constructed. Traffic will have to use the Carbon canyon or Pomona routes. There will be no detour and motorists should avoid the closed highway.

GIRLS GO AFTER RATS

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 12.—Miss Helen A. Caldwell, piper of Huntington, W. Va., is conducting a campaign against rats in this county while Miss Ann May Wright is doing similar work in Riverside county under the supervision of local health authorities.

RAH RAH MAIL CLERKS

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 12.—Harry C. Pease, superintendent of mails here, is recruiting an extra force to handle the Christmas rush and among them are many college boys who will earn extra money during the holidays. "They go after the work like they were bucking a football line," says Pease in praising his rah rah clerks.

RANGERS GET VACATION

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 12.—Rangers who have "slept with their boots on" in the Santa Barbara reserve, will get their annual vacations beginning next Monday, according to Supervisor C. E. Jordan. Rains last week put an end to further fire danger, he said.

WILSON STUDENTS VICTORS IN GAME

Mayor Robinson Presents Prizes for Touch Ball Championship

Eighty boys, members of the Wilson Intermediate school athletic association, banqueted in the school cafeteria last night and celebrated the winning of the touchball championship over the Glendale Avenue school. Beside the members of three Wilson touchball teams, Mayor Spencer Robinson, Miss Carrie Noble, principal; W. F. Hansen, vice-principal; M. E. Dunn, A. Bennett, A. S. Wesner and Harry Lintz of the school faculty and Edward Brenner, superintendent of physical education, and A. N. Petty, of the Glendale Avenue school, attended. Members of the winning Glendale senior touchball team also attended.

The dinner was served at 5:30 o'clock by Mrs. Aichholz, superintendent of the cafeteria, with Vice-President Hansen as toastmaster. Talks were given by Mayor Robinson, Miss Noble, Mr. Lintz and Mr. Brenner and captains of the different touchball teams represented.

Four prizes were given by Mayor Robinson and presented to the lucky students. Three of the prizes were boxes of candy. The fourth, which went to Walter Tobin of Wilson school, was the new football used in the last game between Glendale and Wilson schools.

The touchball season between the two schools proved a big success. In the midget and junior divisions of play, Wilson won out and captured the championship. The senior division was won by Glendale Intermediate.

LONDON WOMEN MAKE MICE PETS

Entry List at Animal Show Included 350 Having Long Pedigrees

LONDON, Dec. 12.—The age-old illusion that women like and are afraid of mice was dispelled at the recent Crystal Palace Animal show.

Three hundred and fifty women entered pedigreed mice for the show, and it was a common sight during the course of the show to see the mice's proud owners fondling them in their hands and allowing them to run up their arms.

Short Circuit in Car Brings Fire Company

Fire caused by a short circuit in the starter cable of a car parked at Brand boulevard and Cypress avenue just before 1 o'clock today, was extinguished by apparatus from Station No. 2 of the Glendale fire department. The damage was slight, it is reported by Chief A. H. Lankford. A false alarm at 12:58 o'clock just as the firemen were returning from the auto blaze, called them to 422 West Windsor road, Chief Lankford reports.

Young People's Club Meets Tomorrow Night

The Young People's society of the First Church of the Nazarene will hold a meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at the corner of Brand boulevard and Harvard street. Archie Rutledge will have charge, assisted by Vernon Wilcox. Special music will be given. The public is invited.

Tourists spent $3,500,000 in Norway last summer.

Picture of Living Appear With Dead, Resemble Noted Athletes

LONDON, Dec. 12.—"Spirit" photographs, taken during the two-minute Armistice day silence at Cenotaph, have lost caste since one enterprising London newspaper attempted to prove that the "spirits" of supposed victims of the war, which were pictured as hovering above the Cenotaph, showed remarkable resemblances to the pictures of well-known living athletes.

One "spirit" was remarkably like the features of Battling Siki and another resembled Jimmy Wilde.

Mrs. Dean, who took the "spirit" photograph, admitted some of the "spirits" did resemble the features of living persons. "If I had wanted to produce a fraudulent photograph," she declared, "is it likely I would have used portraits of well-known footballers or boxers?"

Youth Goes Courting Down House Chimney

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 12.—Russell Barnes, 17-year-old Chino youth, who was taken in custody

by Sheriff W. A. Shay on charges of attempted burglary at the Ford Williams home, said the purpose of his surreptitious visit via the chimney, where he was trapped, was not for robbery.

He wanted to get into the house and cut a trapdoor through the floor so he could visit with the daughter of the house. His teachers attribute his strange antics, which resulted in his being caught in the chimney of the Williams home, to the fact that Russell has been reading romantic magazine stories.

Town's No-Crime Mark For 12 Years All Shot

LONDON, Dec. 12.—The twelve years "no crime" record of the small town of Tenterden, Kent County, was all shot to pieces recently when one of the town's youngest citizens was convicted of housebreaking. The judge remarked for twelve years it had not been necessary for the court to sit until that day.

PRIZE GUESSING CONTEST IS HELD

J. W. Young Is Nearest to
Estimating Correct Weight
Of Big Pumpkin

The pumpkin guessing contest held by Schuyler & Harshman, fruit and vegetable dealers in Ye Market Place, the large new market on Los Feliz road between Brand boulevard and Central avenue, created a great deal of interest according to the proprietors and they have announced it will be made an annual event.

The winner of the contest was J. W. Young, 315 East Mountain street, whose guess was only ten ounces off, the prize pumpkin weighing 104 pounds, 6 ounces. Mr. Young's guess was 105 pounds. Second prize was won by D. R. Guerdin, 318 West Park street, with a guess of 102 pounds, 3 ounces, and third prize went to Mrs. A. E. Mill, 648 Alexander street, whose guess was 102 pounds, 2 ounces. The prizes were: first, box of fancy Jonathan apples; second, 100 pounds Burbank potatoes; third, pumpkin which was guessed on.

Several hundred guesses were given, all of them too low, the average guess being only 71 pounds. The lowest guess was 30 pounds and the highest 613 pounds. The number of seeds in the pumpkin were also guessed on, the winner being Mrs. Edwin Evans, 1214 South Mariposa street, with a guess of 613 seeds. The amount of seeds in the pumpkin was 615.

OLD FASHIONED SONGS TOPIC OF SKETCH

Miss Gladys Kattelman Is Author of Poetic Bit
On Past, Present

Old songs were rejuvenated yesterday at the Madrigal club Christmas party at the home of Mrs. C. L. Viereck, 311 East Stocker street. Each member was asked to sing a song at least twenty-five years old and many quaint, familiar melodies and popular old songs were sung.

Mrs. Charles A. Parker, well-known Glendale musician, and leader of the club, was presented with a piano, in miniature, as first prize for her clever singing of "Way Down in Maine." Mrs. R. A. Littlefield gave a song written back in the '60's, when prohibition was a burning question. The title was "Touch Not the Fair Cup Though It Sparkles," "The Drunkard's Wife to Her Husband." "After the Ball Was Over," with second verse parodied, by Mrs. E. Hensel, won much applause. Mrs. Littlefield was awarded a harmonica for her part in the program, while Mrs. Hensel received a clown toy.

In recalling the old songs, the club members and guests found interest in a clever poetic sketch written by Miss Gladys Kattelman of 519 West Oak street, whose mother is a member of the club. The sketch is herewith printed:

"Don't You Remember," the songs we used to sing
In memory still, "I Hear Their Gentle Voice Calling"
"Old Black Joe," while "Sweet Afton Gently Flows"
To the lyric strains of "My Wild Irish Rose"
"When You and I Were Young Maggie"
Was once as new as "Annie Laurie" While "Jingle Bells," the old tales tell
"In Old Madrid," we sang right well. Sung everywhere, it seemed to be, Was "The Girl I Left Behind Me" "Her Bright Smile Haunts Me Still" we know

A ballad was like "Sweet and Low". We're sure that a most popular air Was the well known love song "Robin Adair".
While "The Last Rose of Summer Left Fading Alone"
Was as favored there as "Home Sweet Home".
Tender "Juanita" and "Sweet Adeline".

Every young lover sang in his time. "Just a Song at Twilight"
We liked as well as "Tenting Tonight".
Today the young folks think they have An equal in the modern jazz "Oh Baby," "Apple Sauce," "The Sheik".

"Red Hot Mama," they will shriek; "Limehouse Blues" and "Tripping Along"
"Last Night on the Back Porch" and "Hi Lee, Hi Lo," because I love you Are popular today wherever you go. It's up to us today to show The young folks all that they don't know

That music, such as ours, is far More beautiful than jazz tunes are; And at our concert they will find That they are of the selfsame mind. Our songs they won't forget for days

And the Madrigal club they'll always praise.

Santa Monica Elks To Give Xmas Cheer Ball

Elks and their friends from all Southern California are invited to attend the Christmas cheer ball of Santa Monica Lodge No. 906, B. P. O. E. to be held at the La Monica ballroom in Santa Monica, Wednesday night, December 17. Extensive preparations have been made and the arrangement is such that several thousand couples can be accommodated.

Members of the local Elks lodge who have enjoyed the hospitality of Santa Monica lodge are urged to go to Santa Monica on the seventeenth. This annual Christmas cheer ball which is for the purpose of assisting in the fund raised for Christmas cheer work, is thrown open to the public at large with the urgent invitation that everyone attend.

Blames Ignorance for Serious Auto Crashes

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—Ignorance, chief cause of most of our motor accidents, should be determined by the examiners in giving state operators' licenses, declared Richard E. Kropf, supreme regent of the Royal Arcanum, in addressing a safety conference here. Careless and perfunctory examinations are the causes of many crashes, he maintained.

RUB CHEST COLDS AWAY; STOP PAINS

Pain and congestion are gone. Quickly?—Yes. Almost instant relief from chest colds, sore throat, backache, lumbago follows a gentle rubbing with St. Jacobs Oil.

Rub this soothing, penetrating oil right on your chest and, like magic, relief comes. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless liniment which quickly breaks chest colds, soothes the inflammation of sore throat and breaks up the congestion that causes pain. It never disappoints and does not burn the skin. Get a 35 cent bottle of St. Jacobs Oil at any drug store. It has been recommended for 65 years.—Advertisement.

English Cave Woman Lives Alone With Cat

BRADFORD, Eng., Dec. 12.—"Floris All Alone" is the name that has been given to a 20-year-old girl who lives by herself in a cave in the Shipley Glen Ravine. Her only companion is a black cat. The reason for her hermitage is a mystery.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no hayking, snuffing, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night. Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head, soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly. It is just what every cold and catarrh-sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.—Advertisement, 12/12.

REALTY BOARD IS POWER FOR CITY

This Argument Forwarded
By Local Body In
Members Drive

"Since it has been in existence, the Glendale Realty board has always been recognized as a powerful and useful factor in the development of this city, and the drive which it has been conducting for membership will benefit this city only insofar as it is supported by real estate brokers and property owners." This statement was made today by President W. L. Twining of the local board in commenting on California Realty Board membership week, the statewide movement now under way to increase membership in local realty organizations. "Property owners, as well as real estate brokers have a vital interest in the upbuilding of the board and the development of a code of ethics to be adhered to by all reputable dealers in this city. Big cities have big realty boards, and as we progress, we will need the appraisal committee, the taxation committee, the arbitration committee, and the other committees that assure the public ethical and responsible conduct by reliable and trustworthy realty brokers."

Demand For Steel Is Keeping Up Standard

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—Demand for steel products from Chicago mills continues at a high point with indications that December will maintain the production level of November. Railroads are the biggest buyers with the Illinois Central reported to have bought $25,000,000 of equipment, entailing big steel orders.

Our mill produces
3000 homes per year

The Pacific reputation has been built on the quality of materials and workmanship offered and the service rendered to the individual homebuilder. More than 19,000 of these structures have been built and the production schedule this year will go over 3,000 homes. By placing your order with us you secure the same buying advantages as the investor who builds a hundred homes—or a thousand homes for that matter. You appreciate the value of quantity production. Henry Ford has taught the industrial world that to reduce cost purchases must be made from the source and every phase of production systematized. This is precisely what has been accomplished in the Pacific mill. Call and look over our scores of interesting plans.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Dec. 12.—The Community Players scored a hit last night in "A Masque of Christmas," by Constance D'Arcy Mackay, directed by Mrs. Elgy Lowry Fischer. The production was staged at the Women's Twentieth Century clubhouse, and was presented under the auspices of the Drama section of the club. Mary Elizabeth Wilson was excellent as "The Spirit of Living," and as "Vanity." Betty Binkley, Isabel Peabody, Elizabeth Allen, Silvia Goodman and Mary Duncan were all good. Mrs. Fischer deserves great praise for the capable way she puts on these community plays. Bertha Horton Orr hall, the women's dormitory at Occidental college is rapidly nearing completion.

This three-story building will be made of the same fireproof materials as are the other college buildings, the builders state, and the architecture will conform to that of the other structures. The building will contain forty-eight rooms, capable of holding ninety-six girls. Sleeping porches, study rooms, and social halls will be furnished. This building is filling a long-felt need at Occidental, in providing housing for the women on the campus. A benefit card party for disabled veterans will be held at the Women's Twentieth Century clubhouse on December 20. Mrs. A. R. Rose is chairman in charge. Bridge and five hundred will be played, she says. The annual toy sale of the Children's hospital, salvage department, to which many Eagle Rock children donated their discarded dolls, is now on in Los Angeles.

The dolls were skillfully repaired, nicely dressed and placed in line. Mrs. Walter Brode is chairman of the doll committee and Mrs. Rufus Horton of the toys. These were assisted by Misses Florence Hunt and Helen Matthews and Mesdames Frankfield, C. B. Bryant, Harry Baldwin, Albert Crutcher and Walter Taylor. Royal Osterhout and a group of friends from Youngstown, Ohio, spent last week end at the Camp Baldy Cabin of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Hein.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Dec. 12.—Proceedings for the improvement of San Fernando boulevard have been halted by the action of the Los Angeles superior court in sustaining a demurrer filed by the Goodrich interests and the school board. The judge took his stand on the grounds that the opening and widening proceedings contained "a technical error." It had been proposed to widen San Fernando boulevard from the Benmar Hills tract to Palm avenue and condemnation proceedings were under way. H. B. Lind appeared before the last session of the Board of Trustees with the request that City Attorney Kirk be authorized to employ legal assistance in fighting the case "to the bitter end." Attorney King pointed out that the city of Los Angeles now has a similar case before the superior court and that he will get the benefit of the researches made by their attorneys. In the course of his remarks to the City Trustees, Mr. Lind intimated that improvements to the extent of $150,000 at the corner of San Fernando boulevard

STANFORD OPENS WORK FOR IRISH

Cardinals Out In Force;
Nevers Sure Berth on
New Year's Day

By DON E. LIEBENDORFER
Written For The Evening News.
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 12.—"Pop" Warner's Cardinal football eleven resumed practice here yesterday for the Stanford-Notre Dame game set for Pasadena Rose Bowl New Year's Day. Every regular, with the exception of "Chuck" Johnston, who will report later in the week, was in uniform.

The "Hospital Brigade" headed by Ernie Nevers, was out en masse. Ernie himself, was unable to take on any hard work but the doctors expect him to be in All shape some time within the next two weeks. Nevers has only played in two games this season and his presence will add a great deal to the Cardinal strength, especially on the defense. Captain Lawson, who hurt his shoulder in the first quarter of the big game, was back in his old place at end and looks to be in good shape. Bill Neill's knee seems to be as strong as ever and he was running signals at his guard position in old time form. Art Thomas's knee has not mended up readily, however, and the big end has only a slight chance to see action against Knute Rockne's boys.

Cleveland Out
Norman Cleveland, star half-back who was disqualified two days before the Bears' game, will not appear against Notre Dame, according to an announcement by Physical Director Dr. W. H. Barrow. The ruling is based on a Pacific Coast conference regulation which says that a man playing on a conference team must be eligible according to conference regulations whether or not his team's opponent is a member.

Either Jim Kelly, who started the Stanford-California game at left half, or Ed Walker, who went in during the fourth quarter, will take Cleveland's place. Kelly played a wonderful game on the defense and it was two long passes by Walker which tied the count against the Bears, so it is probable that "Pop" Warner will send both of these men in, at some time, against the Irish.

Pete Latzo and Tilly Herman meet tonight in the main event at Hollywood American Legion stadium. It will be Latzo's first western battle. Mushy Callahan and Sammy Santos are matched for the semi-windup. Fred Cullen and Dynamite George box in the special spot. Other bouts are: Danny Martin and Bobby Herman, Jack Lewis and Frankie Ray, Chief White Eagle and Joe Risos, and Kid Lombardo and Bert Gonzales.

LAWRENCE PERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Whether Robert T. Fisher, the Harvard coach, will be retained at Cambridge is just now an open question. Nothing in any way official has been said or rumored to indicate that he will not be re-appointed.

On the other hand, there unquestionably is a state of vast dissatisfaction among the alumni with present conditions.

"Harvard football" says an old varsity man in the Harvard alumni bulletin, "is not progressing. If Harvard is to hold her own with other colleges it seems to me a more versatile attack must be developed and some new ideas brought into the stadium."

"My conviction," writes another, "is that our whole athletic system has drifted back into the doldrums where it floundered about in the last years of the last century. If I am right in this the responsibility for our many defeats belongs primarily to the graduate committees that control the different sports and secondarily to the coaches and trainers selected by them."

Another writer in the same issue:

"From a military standpoint, one of the lessons of the great war was that unsuccessful commanders must be displaced. This soon became the practice both of the Germans and the allies. Defeated generals and admirals must get out. Governments could not listen to reasons, explanations and excuses for defeat; the matter transcended any consideration of personal feelings.

"Since the resumption of inter-collegiate athletics in 1919 Harvard has had the same football coach. During that time its opponents have invented many new plays and methods; Harvard not one. All the dozen or more alumni with whom I have happened to talk since the game feel strongly the same way: 'Harvard should have a new head coach and the very best obtainable.' Says another: 'Failures at Harvard should have the good taste to resign.'"

Triple Tie For Second Place In Valley Loop

Standings in the San Fernando Valley league are due for a shake-up Sunday and the present leading team may be dislodged, while the triple tie for second place will be broken. Zelzah is leading the league, with Lankershim, Burbank and Van Nuys tied for second place. In the Sunday games Burbank meets Gene Murphy at Burbank; Lankershim plays at Van Nuys; Zelzah plays Olney at Zelzah and San Fernando plays at Owensmouth. Burbank will play the Buick Autos of the Industrial league Saturday at Burbank. M. C. Bacon is manager of the Burbank team and since he has taken over the reins of the club, the Burbankers have forged ahead.

SPORTDOM ALL OVER

By JOSEPH L. KELLEY
Of The Evening News Staff.

Along with Xmas and New Year's come sessions of the Hot Stove league. Hot Stove league was wished on the country primarily to hold post-mortems over Big League diamond dusters, but it has degenerated into knockers' society opposed to law-breakers in Washington. Stormy Petrel from Wisconsin features both negative and positive sides. Simmering Stove is third man in ring.

League steals New York's curb market stuff during hours sun gets hotter under collar than Texas tamale under corn husk. League had "Silent Cal" elected, inaugurated and putting furniture into everyone's pockets excepting Storm Petrel thirty-one days before polls opened.

They proed and coned "Hell Marie" Daves chances so much, so often and in such hot sun that "Hell Marie" ran way ahead of "Cal's" ticket and came near being president.

Santa Claus gets mention in league only when member gets stove sizzling hot and tells about how he talked the wife out of fur coat, diamond ring and Rolls Royce. He promised her rindsides seat instead, when Valentine goes four rounds with the Barber of Seville.

But wait 'til after Santa Claus gets through picking pockets of good husbands. Then the boys of Hot Stove league can get in some real constructive work.

"Mugsy" McGraw's Giant Killers have to be revamped. League says he ought to banish "Irish" Meusel from garden. They say he causes more trouble to "Mugsy" than apples did to Adam. They want to trade Irish for Arnold Statz belonging to chewing gum king Wrigley.

Chewing Gum Czar when interviewed by "inquiring reporter" at his tumble-down shack covering half of Catalina Island said he knew nothing of "Mugsy's" offer. Furthermore he can't be bothered with his Cubs until Chicago thaws out.

Irish is the brother of Bob Meusel. Wherever you see Bob you see Babe Ruth. Babe and Bob are as near together as a pair of scissors out of work. When last seen by "inquiring reporter" Babe was headed for the farm and Bob was closer to him than sheriff to movie foreclosure sale on old homestead.

League is tied in knots over disposal of Ty Cobb, demon gardener and manager of Detroit. "Ty" don't know whether to chloroform Ty or send him bottle of Hollywood gin. The idea is to get Ty to quit before he makes more "last farewells" than Sarah Bernhardt and John McCormack. Ty handed in quitting papers before World War. He's still limping after 'em in center garden.

Ty should do a "double" with Charlie Chaplin. Both have first penny money gave them to buy candy. Both saved copper and ate other fellow's candy. Ty emulated Dan Sully's corner in cotton and soaked enough away to keep Jim Corbett a year in dress suits. Only reason Ty has for staying in game now is to get Babe Ruth's goat.

Kid McCoy is "punch Goofy," diagnosed by reputable alienists as temporary Americano super-induced by multiple fists coming in contact with the old button situated directly under both ears. Kid didn't know whether to be crazy or not. He's decided on the not strengthened by the goofy punch.

PEACE DISLODGED IN BASEBALL WAR

Showdown In Chicago Is Expected at Joint Meeting
On Next Wednesday

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The dove of peace flew in an open window, perched on a limb of the chandelier and serenely settled over all. It looked like the end of the baseball war. Then a National league reached up, tore off a wing and ate it.

The gesture typified the attitude of the National league at the close of the local series of major league baseball meetings to members of the older organization left town today, they were united on one point:

"Ban Johnson must go."

Seemingly there can be no peace until baseball gets itself a new dove, or a new president of the American league.

Rebuke Given
The latter appeared to be satisfied on Wednesday when it administered a tacit rebuke to its leader in the form of a resolution eulogizing Judge Landis. But the National league is demanding a showdown and a rebuke to the best advice, it will have the judge himself championing its cause.

The showdown, they say, will come at next Wednesday's joint meeting at Chicago. The passing and airing of innocuous resolutions here was a mere preliminary step in Johnson's downfall, in the opinion of prominent baseball men.

They claim to have assurances that Landis will appear on that occasion and demand that baseball ask for Johnson's resignation or accept his own. The judge is sitting pretty with a handful of clubs and plans to play them all on Johnson's official head, it is claimed. If it comes to a choice between Landis and Johnson, baseball has but one course. It has already sustained the one and repudiated the other.

The National league owners state that they have three of baseball's most prominent figures lined up with it behind the banner of the anti-Johnson crusade. Judge Landis, Charles Comiskey, the old Roman of the Chicago White Sox, and John McGraw, manager of the Giants.

GRID CONFERENCE FOR COAST OPENS

Schedule Is Completed to Satisfaction of All;
No Fight Looms

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 12.—With a football schedule agreed upon which apparently has satisfied all—even the University of Southern California—faculty representatives of the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate conference assembled here today in their first scheduled business meeting of the three-day gathering.

The schedule making out of the way, it appeared more certain than ever that the California-Stanford break with U. S. C. would not come before the conference. Gus Henderson, Trojan coach, assured that "if it's up to U. S. C. whether there will be a fight in the conference meeting, there will be no fight."

Possibility of doing away with freshman competition loomed owing to the frequent squabbles over eligibility. Small colleges of the northwest are expected to get together today and form a new northwest body.

KEARNS SAYS NO FIGHTS PLANNED

Champion's Manager to Let
Rickard and California
Men Bid for Bouts

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 12.—Denying that Tex Rickard has any arrangement whereby Jack Dempsey will fight Tommy Gibbons or anyone during 1925, Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, said today the champion expected to box twice next year but not even tentative plans for the bouts had been made. Kearns took the attitude that he would let Rickard and California promoters bid against each other for a Dempsey-Gibbons bout.

He said he and Dempsey needed money and were anxious to fight. Together they paid $100,000 income tax last year, Kearns declared, and most of their ready cash had been spent in income and property taxes.

MIKE SPEAKS UP

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—In a statement issued today Mike Tigue, who holds the world's light heavyweight title, declared that never again would he enter a New York ring. He said he would defend his title against all comers in no-decision bouts.

"In reference to the Gibbons challenge," he said, "let me say I am willing to meet Gibbons or Gene Tunney."

RINGSIDE GOSSIP FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Well, Tommy Gibbons is now in line for the talked of return match with Jack Dempsey. Evidently all Tommy had to do to get that way was to beat kid Norfolk decisively. This the St. Paul mauler did at the Madison Square Garden before a bumper crowd on Tuesday night.

Of course Kid Norfolk is not Harry Wills, nor even Jack Renault; just the same the song singers are already tuning up for preliminary outbursts heralding a coming Gibbons-Dempsey encounter.

Kid Norfolk is a very black young man who when he enters the ring with his white rubber knee braces, his white socks and white pants creates the king of some cannibal isle. He used to be as tough as the solid rubber ball he resembles and his rugged hitting and weaving style of mixing made him a fighter feared by most and respected by all.

But of late the Kid, whose fighting career has enabled him to be quite a factor in the Harlem apartment house business, has gone back more than a little. A lot of his old speed and a great deal of his punching ability has departed and besides he has that malady to which boxers who stay in the game long enough seem easy prey—an eye almost blinded by a cataract.

Even with the Kid as good as he ever had the chances as he would never have got very far with a fighter of Tommy Gibbons' class. And as the Tuesday night battle turned out he never had the slightest chance to win.

But the Kid is game. This can be said of him without any reservation at all. He has a fighter's heart and while he lasts he puts up a fight that lifts the 13,000 spectators from their seats and caused their hysterical shouts to roll and reverberate among the giant steel rafters of the garden roof.

With the first clang of the bell Norfolk rushed in with that weaving style of milling which Dempsey turned loose against. Less Willard and seems since to have forgotten; a very effective method since it makes the weaver a very uncertain target to shoot at while at the same time it is difficult to guard against the blows that drift in from every unexpected direction.

But after the first round Tommy had everything sized up. In the second he hit Norfolk a clip on the cheekbone that looked as though it ought to have taken the negro's head off. Right then it looked as though Gibbons pulled his stuff and began to carry his opponent. For if he did not have him right then, no fighter ever had a man right.

The interesting thing about Gibbons was his aggressiveness. The old Gibbons was a cool guy who walked around and picked 'em off at his leisure. But against Norfolk the St. Paul fighter was a fighter pure and simple.

He kept jabbing at the negro's left eye and since Norfolk cannot see out of his right the merits of this policy will be evident to all. But Norfolk made a good fight out of it until the fourth. He was being outpointed but was keeping up a fast pace. Then toward the end of the frame in question Gibbons let out a right which crashed into Norfolk's jaw, sending him staggering to the ropes.

Tommy chased after him like a fighting fool, taking no aim but merely socking in everything he had. This saved the Kid who displayed a very high brand of defense. The bell saved him. In the fifth Gibbons sent Norfolk to the floor after the negro had put up a game comeback and then in the sixth knocked him down again. The end was in sight—partly because of the punishment the Kid had received and partly because of his own efforts—when the referee mercifully stopped the bout.

All that can be said for Norfolk is that he gave the spectators a run for their money.

Tiger Flowers showed his greatness as a fighter by scoring a technical knockout over Johnny Wilson—the first time the former middleweight champion was ever knocked out. The referee stopped the battle in the third round to save Wilson.

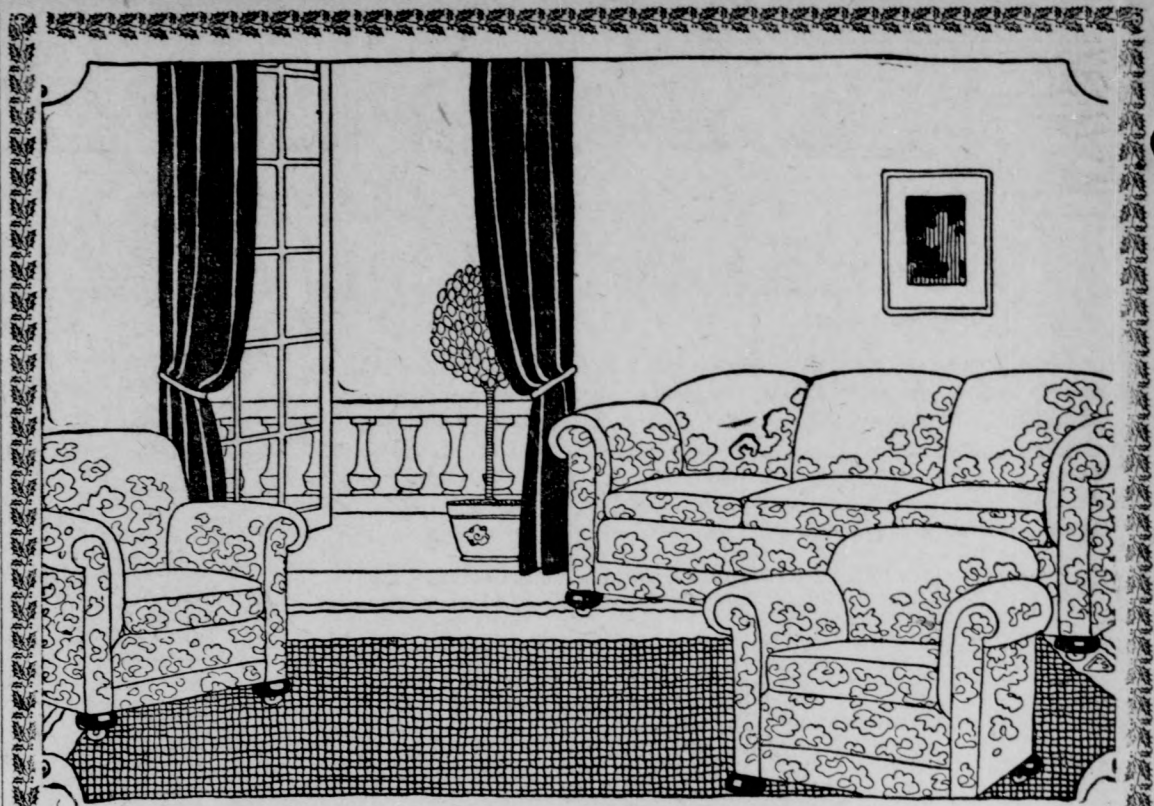

Duffy-Walker Bout Is Plan For Frisco Ring

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 12.—Jimmy Duffy, Oakland, will meet Mickey Walker, welter champion, in the San Francisco ball park next year in San Francisco's first big bout under the new boxing law, according to Assemblyman Harry Morrison, father of California boxing legislation, who is a visitor here today. Morrison said the only hitch to the match would be objections by Tommy Simpson, Oakland promoter and backer of Duffy.

AUTOS LOSE TOPS

INDIO, Dec. 12.—A baker's dozen of auto tops are crowning the sand dunes near the highway between this place and Whitewater as the result of recent high winds. No one was injured, but the damage to automobiles to be from the imperial valley has been serious.

Ready to Gather Oranges

Fond hopes of the Orangemen for championship honors will be blasted tomorrow if the plans of this quintet of Dynamiters work out. DICK RYAN, captain and right half, upper left, will lead his warriors into the fray. COACH N. C. HAYHURST, upper center, who feeds his boys on TNT, has built up a championship team. ELMER MUFF, left half, is ready to dash out of the upper right-hand corner of the picture. Down in the lower left corner is "DROOPY" PHILLIPS, famed for his weird habit of snagging passes and upsetting opponents tearing around his end of the line. "DUKE" MORRISON, lower left, specializes in tearing big holes in opponents' line when playing left guard. "CEC" ZAUN, appearing in lower center, is the kingpin of the line, and the Dynamiters' premier center man.

Four Fleaweights On Injured List; Varsity Ready For Orange

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

With four of his star players out with injuries which will keep them from playing for a prolonged period or giving their best services, Coach Wolfe of the Glendale Firecrackers finds himself up against it for Saturday's game for the class C championship of Southern California, which is to be run off as a preliminary to the big game between Glendale and Orange at Patterson field, Occidental college.

The heavyweights are in prime condition no one being bothered with injuries. The fleaweights will be seriously handicapped with the loss of the services of Frank Wykoff, left end who made Glendale's lone touchdown in the tie game with Huntington Park, Noel Killinger, who is out with a sore foot, Alley Lovell, who is bothered with a severe toothache, and Willy Mainland, who suffered a wrenched knee.

Wolfe's injured quartet makes up the bulk of the Firecracker's offensive and defense, and with these players on the sidelines the outcome of the game is in a veil of doubt. It is true that the Spartans tied the last contest when a stroke of luck gave them a recovered fumble on Lovell's blocked punt behind his own goal but with the Firecracker's sting removed the Spartans have a good chance to cop the game and title.

CAPTAIN HAWKINS BANQUET SPEAKER

Trojan Star Urges Members Of Dynamite Team to Play Clean Ball

Wolfe is sure of only a few of his men to start. George Lucas will snap the ball while Wilbur Booth and Dean McCulloch will play tackles. Wolfe will use either Raymond Nutt or Dick Randall at one tackle while Dick Randall will play the other tackle if his wrenched back permits. Jack Packard will probably take right end with Bill Scheidecker at left end.

Sunderland will call signals. The remainder of the backfield is uncertain but Jerry Osier, Raymond Nutt, Alley Lovell and Monte Killinger will all get into some of the game.

Heavyweights Ready
The heavyweights have finished their hard practice and will top off their training this afternoon by running through signals. Their last scrimmage was held Wednesday night in a workout on the field of the coming battle, Patterson field. Patterson is neither turf nor dirt, but is of medium hard sand. The Firecrackers also held a workout Wednesday night at Oxy.

Bill Bradbury, who received an injury in the last game which, it was feared, would put him out for a week or two, is in fine shape and will attempt to play Saturday. Elmer Muff will play safety as usual. Droopy Phillips will probably start at right end with Bradbury at right tackle. Either Dixon Fannon or Ray Green will begin at right guard. Hayhurst stated last night that the lineup would probably be just the same as at the start of last Saturday's game.

One of the biggest crowds to ever witness prep football at Southern California is expected tomorrow. Huntington Park will have a large representation at the game, according to Coach J. C. Penitwell. Orange is sending half the town to cheer their players in hopes of a victory, according to information from the citrus center, and Glendale will be on hand with a strong and noisy delegation. The first game will start at 12:15 o'clock, when the finals in

How They Will Start

Here is the probable lineups for the two crucial games tomorrow afternoon at Patterson stadium, compiled by the sport department of The Glendale Evening News. The fleaweight game for the Southern California class C title will start at 12:15 o'clock and the heavyweight game, semi-final in the playoff, will start at 2:15 o'clock. Hayhurst Speaks

Before Captain Hawkins' talk, Coach Normal C. Hayhurst, mentor of the Dynamiters, spoke several minutes on "What Makes a Winning Team." Coach Hayhurst outlined three points, the first and outstanding essential is fight; the second, desire to play football, and the third, willingness to sacrifice all during the football season. The meeting was in charge of Roland F. Hodder, chairman. Bob Hatch, president of the Glendale Hi-Y, gave the welcome to the team, and Captain Dick Ryan voiced his appreciation for the entertainment.

During the banquet music was furnished by the Hi-Y orchestra consisting of Roscoe Graham, Donald Dewey, Henry Hesse, Alexander MacDougald and Dallas Calhoun. The Girls' String quartette of the Bible Institute, gave two selections.

COACH SILENT ON COLORED PLAYERS

Tiger. Director Refuses to Comment on U. S. C. Men In Big Contest

COLUMBIA, Mo., Dec. 12.—C. L. Brewer, director of athletics of the University of Missouri, declined today to discuss Missouri's attitude toward negro football players reported to be members of the University of Southern California squad which will oppose the Tigers in a game at Los Angeles Christmas day.

"We have no statement to make concerning Trojan negro football players," Director Brewer said. "We simply have a business contract to meet the University of Southern California."

Coach Henry likewise would not discuss the matter but said he did not expect the negro players would be used by Southern California. The team will leave here December 20 and reach Los Angeles on December 23. Twenty-one men will make the trip, traveling in two Pullman coaches. They will be accompanied by Director Brewer, Coaches Henry and Kipke, and their wives; Dr. J. C. Jones, director of the memorial fund; R. L. Hill, alumni recorder, and Dean Albert K. Heckel. In addition, enough students have signified their intention of going to make possible a special train, Director Brewer said.

CHAPTER LXIII

"You really think that I am looking well tonight? You see, I never know where I am between the two extremes. Otille declared that I was a vision of delight. Otto snarled out something about the Montemartre."

"It is a most unfortunate circumstance," Grant declared, "that every day I am learning to dislike your husband more."

"You may hate him if you want to," she replied. "I shall not quarrel with you."

"Well, I hope he is much kinder to you at home than he appears to be in public. I can't stand the man who scowls at his wife's beauty because it naturally attracts admiration and doesn't himself endeavor to offer her his homage."

"Otto is thoroughly German," she replied. "Some Englishmen are the same, they say. They buy their wife with their name or money or simulated affection, and when they have her it is finished. She is their chattel, she is their singing bird or dancing girl, to perform for their pleasure. There are times, nowadays, she went on, "when such methods fail, and they bring disaster. But even then the man is generally selfish and brutal enough to see that some one else shares that disaster."

Cornelius Blunn leaned a little forward in his place with uplifted glass.

"Before I forget it—Bon voyage, Mr. Slattery," he said. "May your trip across the Atlantic provide you with as much amusement as our recent cruise. And may its results be as satisfactory."

Grant bowed pleasantly and drank.

"I shall miss you all," he acknowledged, smiling.

Grant saw the white shoulder.

"Are you going straight to New York?"

"I may stay at Gibraltar to coal," he replied. "I shall probably have to."

She turned a little towards him. She had a trick of dropping her voice almost to a whisper. Her little question barely reached his ears.

"Are you taking me with you?"

"I can't do that, Gertrude," he said firmly. "Neither would you come. And it isn't a fair ques-

so close to him, quiver for a moment—a queer little habit of hers in times of emotion. She remained silent, however, for some time. Perhaps she knew that her husband's eyes were upon her, as well as Blunn's. Under cover of a great chorus of laughter, evoked by one of the latter's stories, she turned at last to Grant.

"That is just one of the sweet little stabs," she confided, "which I have learnt to expect. Cornelius has been saving that up for me. I think that you might have spared me the shock."

"I only made up my mind twelve hours ago," he assured her. "I can't imagine how he knew."

"I'm glad to hear that. I think that I should have been the first to be told."

"You probably would. Next to the Yeovills, of course."

"Lord Yeovil or Lady Susan?"

"They are equally my friends," he replied.

"Are you in love with Lady Susan, Grant?"

He was a little startled, both by the question and the "hrrill" which it brought.

"I happen to be thirty-one years old," he reminded her. "Lady Susan is nineteen."

"That is rather a recognized standard," she remarked, "according to present ideas. The older a man gets the more he leans towards the kindergarten."

In any case it doesn't answer my question."

"I have no time to be in love with any one just at present," he said. "I have work to do."

"You men and your work!" she exclaimed bitterly. "You drag it around with you like a closet of refuse, into which you can step whenever you are hard pressed. Honestly I can't imagine why there are any good women in the world. There certainly is no encouragement for them. When do you sail, Grant?"

"Tomorrow or Thursday."

"Are you going straight to New York?"

"I may stay at Gibraltar to coal," he replied. "I shall probably have to."

She turned a little towards him. She had a trick of dropping her voice almost to a whisper. Her little question barely reached his ears.

ROBINSON PLAYERS

"Only 38" is proving very popular at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre, where it is being presented nightly by the Robinson Players, the curtain rising at 8:15 o'clock. The Legionnaires of Post No. 127 liked it and hundreds witnessed the performances last night and the night before, when they participated in benefit performances. The play is from the pen of A. E. Thomas, one of the most popular dramatists in America, and deals with the lighter aspects of college life. It is noted for its comedy situations and clever characterization. Included in the exceptional cast of "Only 38" are Gertrude Keller, Olaf Hyden, Mary Isabelle Alpaugh, William H. Stephens, Thyra Ruhl, Gertrude Rothe, Richard Ehlers and George C. Pearce. Among some of the Glendaleans appearing in the college scene are Helen Anderson, Winifred Anderson, Edwards Rothe, Harry Glazier, Maurice Widdows and Harold Teffy.

tion to ask me when you know that you are looking more adorable than you ever looked in your life."

"I tried to make myself look nice tonight because I wanted to ask you that question, or something like it. Isn't it terrible, this gift of frankness I have developed? I think out of a course of complete dissimulation and I find myself suddenly the very personification of candor. Why won't you take me, Grant? Are you afraid of Otto? He is a very small man and not very strong. And duels have gone out even amongst us now."

"I thought," he remarked with a smile, thankful for the note of banter in her tone, "that your beloved young Prince was trying to bring them in again."

"They say so," she admitted. "That is because he got them reinstated when he was at the University, and amongst his young friends, he is President of what they call their 'Court of Honor.' But I do not think you would be afraid to fight with any man, Grant, for anything you cared for."

The great question is, or would be, whether you cared enough."

"It isn't entirely a question of caring," Grant declared. "There are two contemptible roles in the world. One of them is the role of Joseph. I tell you frankly, Gertrude, that that is a part I never intend to play. Therefore

THE GATEWAY

Algiers, the French Foreign Legion and as colorful a love story as you've ever seen on the screen. That's "Wages of Virtue," Gloria Swanson's newest Paramount picture, which is showing at the Gateway today and Saturday.

The story is an adaptation of Percival Wren's novel, with Ben Lyon in the leading man's role, opposite the star and Norman Trevor, Ivan Linow, Joe Moore and others in the cast.

Here is the role of a young Neapolitan girl of the slums who becomes the pride of the Foreign Legion, a little mother to "men without a country." Ben Lyon is a recruit in the Legion, a young American, with whom Carmelita falls in love. Trevor plays John Boule, veteran of the internationally famous regiment, and Joe Moore has the role of a New York gangster, also in the ranks of the Legion. Linow has a "heavy" role as Luigi, ex-strong man for a side-show and now the regimental bully. It is about these characters that the story revolves.

Armand Cortez, Adrienne d'Ambricourt and Paul Panzer are included in important supporting roles.

Richard Talmadge in "American Manners" opens today at the Glendale Theatre.

If I am placed in the position of that unfortunate young man—which I trust I never shall be—I shall probably ask gracefully, "Thank heavens," she murmured. "I may remind you of that some day."

"The other," he went on, "is the man who takes away another man's wife. Frankly, I hate that a great deal worse. I suppose, during my thirty-one years, I have behaved neither worse nor better than other men. But I have never poached. I don't understand the morality of it exactly, but it happens to be how I feel."

Uncle Wiggly

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE CLOTHES LINE

"Uncle Wiggly, will you please put up the clothes line for me?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one morning, as the rabbit gentleman started to hop away from his hollow stump bungalow to seek an adventure in the woods.

"Are you going to wash the clothes so late in the week as Friday?" asked Mr. Longears, with a funny twinkle of his pink nose.

"I'm just going to wash out a few tablecloths and things like that to get ready for Christmas," spoke Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"Christmas doesn't come for nearly two weeks yet," laughed the bunny.

"No matter, I don't want to be late for it," spoke Nurse Jane. "Just put up the line, like a good rabbit."

So Uncle Wiggly got the clothes line from the laundry and hopped out in the yard behind the bungalow, where there were posts on which the line could be fastened. The rabbit made the line fast to one post and then to another, but when he tried to make it stretch to the last post the line wasn't long enough.

And then Uncle Wiggly remembered!

Only the day before he had cut a piece of Nurse Jane's line to make a jumping rope for Baby Bunty, the little rabbit. Uncle Wiggly had said nothing to Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy about cutting the line, as he thought she wouldn't miss it.

Now the clothesline didn't reach around to all the posts as it had done before. Nurse Jane, looking from the window, saw this, and she cried:

"What's the matter with my line? Why don't you put it up?"

"It's a bit short," answered Uncle Wiggly, shy like and embarrassed.

"The line short! It wasn't before! What made it short?" asked Nurse Jane, suspicious like.

"Never mind. It's all right. I'll stretch it and make it long enough to reach all the posts," said the bunny.

"Well, see that you do," squeaked Nurse Jane.

Then Uncle Wiggly began to pull on the line to stretch it. He pulled and he pulled and he pulled, but still he couldn't make it reach to the last post.

"It's not strong enough, I fear," said Mr. Longears. "It needs much stretching."

Just then out of the bushes popped the Woozie Wolf.

"I've come to take you away to my den!" snarled the Wolf to the rabbit.

"You must be very strong to take me off to your den," said the bunny rabbit, proud like.

"I am—terribly strong!" growled the Wolf, proud like.

"Then just take hold of this clothesline and stretch it for me," begged the bunny. "Pull hard on it and stretch it."

The Wolf was foolishly proud of his strength, so he began to pull on the line. He pulled and he pulled and he pulled and made it stretch like a rubber boot. Then, all of a sudden, the rope broke and the Wolf went bingo bango on his nose, bumping himself hard.

"Wurra! Wurra!" howled the bad chap. "Oh, my nose is bleeding," he cried, and away he ran so frightened that he put his tail between his hind legs.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny.

CALL SPECIAL MEETING ON SCHOOLS

Board Silent on Report of Joint Committee; Seek Outside Opinions

The report of the joint committee on school expansion was presented last night before a joint meeting of the Glendale Union High school board of trustees and the elementary school board of education. Before hearing this report, a vote was taken requesting the newspaper reporters to withdraw.

Members present refused this morning to give out any information on this report or comment on it in any way. The reporters were told, however, that the meeting lasted until midnight, when it was voted to defer action until next Wednesday night, December 17, when the two boards will again meet together at the Broadway High school.

One representative each from the local newspapers, civic organizations, service clubs, schools, teachers' clubs and P. T. A.'s will be invited to be present at the meeting of December 17. It was voted, and George U. Moyse, Glendale Union High school principal, and Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, were authorized to prepare and send out these invitations.

Present at Meeting

It is believed that the report rendered by the joint committee at last night's meeting contains a recommendation of a new high school in the northwest district. Disposal of the Harvard High school is another matter that is believed to be covered by the report. The reason for bringing local organizations into the decision is for the purpose of getting a full expression of opinion on the important expansion program contemplated, reporters were told.

The meeting last night was presided over by Albert D. Pearce, president of the Glendale Union High school board of trustees, and there were present from this board H. W. Yarik, A. W. Tower and George H. Bentley, together with George U. Moyse, G. U. H. S. principal. The elementary school board of education was represented by Mrs. A. A. Barton, president; Mrs. Arthur C. Brown, secretary; D. J. Hibbern, Harry W. Chase, and Richardson D. White, superintendent.

Explain Motive

Mr. Moyse and Mr. White met this morning at the Harvard High school to prepare and send out the list of invitations to the various local organizations requesting that representatives be sent to the joint meeting of the two boards next Wednesday night.

"The idea of the joint boards last night, in deferring action until a meeting can be had with representatives of the leading Glendale organizations, is to get an outside viewpoint on this important matter of school expansion," said Mr. Moyse. "We who deal intimately with these problems are too close to them. We want the clear vision of local people who are more removed from the subject."

The meeting next Wednesday night will give us an angle we ourselves cannot get, right here in the thick of it," said Mr. White. "An outside observer is bound to get a fresh perspective on the problem. With all these representative Glendale minds thinking with us on this important matter, we should arrive at a conclusion that will be for the best interests of the city as a whole."

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Few traces remained today of the heavy speculative selling which so upset the stock market on Wednesday and Thursday and which in bearish quarters was hailed as the beginning of the end of the current movement in stock prices. With the rumors concerning the advance in the discount rate of the federal reserve bank set at rest, and bullish traders ready to take back their stocks at the lower prices prevailing at the opening of the market, buying orders predominated, and prices moved forward briskly from the start.

Further progress was made today by the representatives of the various roads concerned in the Nickel Plate Amalgamation, and the exchange of stock in the committee rooms was that, while no modifications might be expected in the terms of the exchanges of stocks as originally made, the leases will probably be broadened to meet the wishes of dissenting minority stockholders.

The Van Swinderen stocks were accordingly made the leaders in the brilliant upward movement of railroad shares today, though a number of the low-priced stocks like St. Paul and New Haven made individual advances for special reasons. New York, Chicago and St. Louis, the original Nickel Plate advanced six points to a new high above 124; C. & O. sold at 97 1/2 against Thursday's low of 93 1/2 and last week's low of 90 1/2; Erie, Pere Marquette, Missouri Pacific and Southern Railway were also in good demand at round bid prices of the year.

The rally in Consolidated Gas and Brooklyn Union Gas, following the favorable decision in their contention against the $1 gas law, was of short duration, but in a brief period, the sales were large and prices jumped to the high levels of the year. Submarine Boat joined the active shipping stocks today and sold more than a point higher on reports that the government's settlement with the company for war work would not be much longer delayed. Independent steel stocks made a belated addition to the active list. Oils made no effort to emerge from their reactionary conditions, most sales being made at declines from yesterday's close.

Stock sales today, 1,607,300 shares; bonds, $19,044,000.

EXPLAINS NEEDS OF BOULDER DAM

Secretary of Association Tells Kiwanians About Proposed Project

The limit of growth of Southern California is within sight and bounded by the limit of water supply of this section, Burdett Moody of Los Angeles, declared in an address delivered before the members of the Kiwanis club on the proposed Boulder dam project. Mr. Moody is secretary of the association backing the project.

The proposed dam, he said, would be 605 feet high and would impound 25,000,000 acre feet of water. This would mean 1,250,000 additional acres of land in the Imperial valley could be reclaimed, he said. He explained the report of the reclamation service engineers, upon which the Swing-Johnson bill is based. The dam would stop the carrying of 90,000 acre feet of silt distributed over the Imperial valley.

The proposed plan, he said, would be the loan of the cost for the dam from the United States treasury, to be paid back over a period of 25 to 30 years by the sale of hydro-electrical possibilities.

May Join Association

The meeting was held at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. President A. L. Baird presided, and announced the question of the club joining the organization would be taken up at the directors' meeting next Tuesday.

The attendance prize, a Knox hat, donated by Fred B. Walton, was won by William Court. The silent boost, a large calendar, was furnished by Emil Keifer. President Baird announced the last meeting of the present board of directors would be held at the Egyptian Village Tuesday noon.

R. E. Johnston, president of the Exchange club, extended the greetings of the Exchangees to the members of the Kiwanis club. He spoke on the close co-operation between the two clubs. Appointment pads for 1925 were distributed by Mr. Johnston. He wanted the Kiwanis club members to meet with the Exchange club some time.

Election Next Week

A. L. Ferguson announced the annual election of directors and officers for next year will be held at the meeting next Friday. Sample ballots have been printed and distributed, he said.

N. C. Hayhurst, coach of the high school teams, spoke on the two football games at Patterson field tomorrow. Rex C. Kelly moved that a rising vote of thanks to the coaching staff of the high school, and the motion carried. President Baird pledged the support of the club to a dinner to the teams sponsored by the chamber of commerce. President Johnston of the Exchange club, pledged the support of that organization. D. H. Smith, president of the chamber of commerce, announced he would take the matter up next Tuesday night.

Fred B. Walton gave a short talk on the manufacture of hats, showing the various steps from plucking of fur from imported pelts to the finished product. W. L. Truitt spoke on the "trade at home" campaign sponsored by the chamber of commerce.

VALUE OF VISION TOLD OPTIMISTS

Dr. Arthur E. Hoar Stresses Need For Protecting Delicate Eyes

Dr. Arthur E. Hoar, secretary of the California League for Conservation of Vision, called upon Glendale Optimists to use more care and give more intelligent regard to the human machines under their charge, and particularly that very important part of every human machine, the eye. Dr. Hoar declared that so greatly is the human eye valued that insurance companies pay the same rate of indemnity in cases of lost vision as they do in the event of death itself.

William Griffin, Glendale master plumber, advocated the employment of Glendale contractors and sub-contractors by Glendale in connection with the "Try Glendale First" campaign, now being conducted. He said that more than $11,000 per month is spent by Glendale for plumbing labor alone, and that if Glendale concerns were awarded all of this work this city's payroll would be decidedly increased.

Plan Christmas Cheer

The Optimists voted to draw upon the big brother fund in assisting Glendale American Legion Auxiliary with their Christmas cheer program at Sawtelle soldiers' home. A large amount for this fund was raised at the meeting, after Eugene J. Wix had spoken on the matter.

President H. R. Boyer opened the meeting, which was held at the Masonic temple, and turned the gravel over to Edward H. Armstrong, chairman of the day. There will be a special Christmas meeting of the Optimists on December 26, the day after Christmas, with Joseph Wolf as chairman of the program.

Major Leagues Decide To Meet In Chicago

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—At an informal joint meeting of American and National league club owners this afternoon a resolution was adopted by which it was determined to hold the annual joint meeting of the two major leagues at the Congress hotel, Chicago, at 11 o'clock next Wednesday morning.

A resolution was adopted of offering sympathy and condolences to Commissioner K. M. Landis, who was unable to attend the meeting, owing to the illness and the recent death of his sister. The joint meeting was not held here today as scheduled because of Landis' inability to attend.

State Property Case To Get Mellon Report

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon this afternoon assured Senator Shortridge of California that a decision would be reached shortly by the treasury on the California community property case. Reports are that Mellon's ruling will be that the California law is valid, thereby making possible the refund of several million dollars to California taxpayers. Treasury officials said this afternoon it would be several days before the decision would be announced.

MISSION WORK DISCUSSED AT MEET

First Congregational Women
Hold All-Day Session
And Hear Reports

Women of the First Congregational church held an all day meeting at the church yesterday, when Miss Nina Rice, graduate of Pomona college, who is on furlough after twenty-one years of missionary work in Turkey, spoke on her work. Tables were decorated with colors of the various countries in which the church has missionaries, with each woman at the table in costume. Miss Rice was dressed in Turkish costume. Her sister, Mrs. Harwood of Claremont, also spoke on Turkey, the ideas of the Turkish women of the poorer class, and their customs.

Women seated at the heads of tables were in costumes of the countries they represented. Mrs. Angier represented Japan and gave an outline of the life and manners of the Japanese people. Mrs. Chubbuck, representing the American Missionary association, spoke on "The Love of Christ and the Word of God." Mrs. Warner in Chinese costume, told of conditions in China. Mrs. Schilling, who represented India, took as her theme, "The Life of the Outcast." Mrs. Peter Hanson wore Mexican garb and told of missionary work, saying work was first organized in 1882 and there were seven missionary workers at Guadalajara. Mrs. E. L. Fiske sang "Face to Face" and "Santa Maria." Mrs. M. E. Canfield presented a monologue entitled "Miss Constant Knockers' Views On Missions."

Business Meeting
At the business meeting the election of officers took place. Mrs. G. H. Schulte, president, directed the meeting. Mrs. Nixon led the devotional service on the subject of "Love and Service." The luncheon was served by members of the Women's Missionary society. Officers elected were: Mrs. Levi Chubbuck, president; Mrs. Allen Green, vice-president; Mrs. Coon, secretary, and Mrs. Peter Hanson, treasurer.

The women's auxiliary held a meeting at 10 o'clock yesterday morning when annual reports of the year's work were given and plans for the new year's work were made. Mrs. H. Montague Porter, president of the auxiliary conducted the meeting. The Women's Missionary society decided that during the next year there would be no dues for membership as every woman member of the church is automatically a member of the society. Gifts will go through the business channels of the church.

According to the new program of work outlined for the year the women's auxiliary and the Women's Missionary society, have a fine outlook for the new year. The election of officers resulted as follows: Mrs. H. Montague Porter, re-elected president; Mrs. O. E. Von Oven, re-elected vice-president; Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke, secretary; Mrs. Fred Rice, treasurer. Plans for the pre-Christmas sale which will be held from 10 o'clock tomorrow, at Guthrie's real estate office, 208 South Brand boulevard, were completed. Christmas gifts, candy and prepared foods will be on sale at that time.

WOMEN ATHLETES TRY GOLF STICKS

Athletic Club Members on Links and Tennis
• Courts for Play

Members of the golf section of the Women's Athletic club held their regular meeting on the links at Griffith park yesterday. Mrs. R. E. Corrigan, chairman, announced today that a new class will be organized after the holidays.

The tennis section met Wednesday morning at the Harrower court and, after playing, motored to Brookside park, Pasadena, where they enjoyed a picnic lunch. After lunch a business meeting was held and playing continued on the park courts.

Mrs. Norman C. Paine, chairman of the tea committee, announces that reservations for the meeting to be held at the Harriett Mae tea room next Friday at 2 o'clock may be made not later than Thursday. The regular monthly business meeting will be held at that time, and all members are requested to be present. Dr. Harriett Farnham, Chairman of calisthenics, announced that, due to the schools being closed Monday, the gymnasium class, as well as the newly organized basketball team, will not meet. Members are requested by Mrs. Dick Michel to watch The Glendale Evening News for further announcements.

Education Board Meet Disposes of Business

The request of the local community service organization for the use of the Harvard High school grounds on Christmas eve was granted last night by the Glendale Union High school board of trustees, at its meeting held at the Broadway High school, Albert D. Pearce, president, presiding. A Christmas tree will be erected and Yuletide exercises held on the Harvard High school grounds on that night, according to it. Ernest Tucker, community service executive.

The board appointed Miss Wilma May Johnson as school nurse. She has had war experience and has been for a number of years in public health work. The resignation of Miss Carrie Baillard, physical education teacher, was accepted, to take effect January 1. She leaves shortly after the first of the year for a six months' trip to Europe. The board also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Sloan, to take effect at the close of school for Christmas vacation.
